

FBI Clears Fried Mystery, Reveals Kidnap Syndicate

Hoover Reports 'Certain Ones' of Four Men Confess Collecting Other Ransoms — Week-End Arrests

Shot and Burned

Hoover Says Gang Shoots Arthur Fried, Then Burns His Body

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—The mystery of Arthur Fried, young business man who vanished 11 months ago, was cleared today with the disclosure by J. Edgar Hoover that Fried was kidnapped, held prisoner four days, then shot to death and cremated.

Hoover, in a dramatic statement last night, laid the death of Fried, 22, head of a Bronx sand and stone company, at the hands of a four-man "kidnap syndicate" which tried for weeks afterward to collect a $200,000 ransom.

The chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation said "certain ones" of the quartet also had confessed they collected $14,900 in two hitherto unrevealed Brooklyn kidnappings and said they are under suspicion in two other kidnap cases and three holdups.

The men, Hoover said, shot Fried to death in a lower East Side apartment and burned his body in a furnace.

He named the suspects as Demetrius Gula, 30, a pinball operator; William Jackson, 27, a WPA playground instructor; John Virga, 34, a clothes presser; and Joseph S. Sacoda, 27, now in Sing Sing prison for parole violation.

Police Records

Hoover said all four have records and will be turned over to local authorities for prosecution. They were arrested over the week-end.

Victims in the two Brooklyn abductions were Benjamin Farber, 19, son of the head of a stevedore concern.

Hoover said the kidnappers seized Farber last April 15 in front of a Brooklyn branch of the National City Bank and released him unharmed shortly after his family paid $1,900 of a $25,000 ransom demand.

Young Miller, he said, was kidnapped last July 24 as he left a Brooklyn theatre and freed within 24 hours when the father paid the gang $13,000. It was the youth's memory of his experience that enabled G-men to trace the gang.

The Farber ransom, at the kidnappers' order, was tossed from the Williamsburg bridge at a designated spot and the ransom for young Miller, a student at Franklin and Marshall College at Lancaster, Pa., was left in a garbage can in downtown Manhattan.

Hoover said the gang used as their hideout a vacant store owned by Gula near a lodge hall in lower Manhattan. The building has since been torn down.

The F. B. I. head refused to name the kidnappers in which the women still were being questioned.

The chief case still confronting the G-men is the disappearance of Peter Levine, 12-year-old New Rochelle schoolboy whose headless, wire-trussed body was found floating in Long Island Sound three months after he vanished last February 24 on his way home from school.

New Rochelle is a suburban Westchester county community near White Plains, where Fried was seized as he left his apartment home to drive to the residence of his mother.

Hoover said the gang at first intended to seize his brother, Hugo, whom they thought a "big shot," but took Fried, executive in a Bronx sand and gravel company.

After taking him to Sacoda's apartment on East 19th street in Manhattan, Hoover continued, the kidnappers forced Fried to write a note to his family asking $200,000 ransom.

When the money was not forthcoming in four days, Hoover said, Sacoda shot Fried through the head and he and Gula carried the body to a car and drove it to a fraternal organization's lodge where Sacoda was employed as a porter.

"They dragged the body to the furnace and shoved it in," Hoover said. "The body was burned, while Sacoda and Gula waited four hours heaping more coal on the fire."

Between December 4, the night of the kidnapping, and January 2, the abductors made 34 telephone calls in an attempt to collect from the Fried family, he added.

"No actual contact was made until January 3, when Hugo was instructed to go to Loew's Commodore Theatre on Second avenue (Manhattan) and he would be recognized by loitering and smoking a large cigar."

"Hugo Fried was to receive a telephone call in the lobby, which he did. It directed him to throw the money to the street. Hugo, however, wanted more identification."

Dewey Makes Bid For Labor, Lehman Charges Evasion

Republican Campaigner Says Democratic Machine 'Victimizing Labor'

(By The Associated Press)
Thomas E. Dewey, Republican gubernatorial candidate, bid today for New York state's labor vote which already has been at least partly promised to his Democratic opponent, Governor Herbert H. Lehman.

Dewey returned to New York city after asserting last night in Buffalo that the Democratic machine in this state "is a double-dealing, two-faced personality" which has victimized labor.

Lehman, who has been endorsed by the American Labor Party and various labor unions and organizations, accused the Republican standard bearer of evading the utility issue because "the Republican Party is still dominated by the utility interests."

Other developments: United States Senator Robert F. Wagner, seeking reelection on the Democratic ticket, asserted that "little changes must be made" in the Wagner labor relations act which he wrote. "No law," he added, "is perfect."

Democratic Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr., told a labor rally his record in prosecuting violations of the state labor laws included 4,500 convictions for abuse of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Mayor John Boyd Thacher, Albany Democrat, asserted that charges of election irregularities in Albany voiced by Dewey are "based on poisonous untruths used to build up a campaign to smear Albany."

Present labor legislation, Dewey said last night, was "an answer to the needs of our times."

"It represents the realization that labor's rights to organize and bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing must be recognized and protected by the basic law," he added.

"I believe in these fundamental rights of labor. I believe in the gains that labor has made through years of struggle. For these gains—for these rights, I will continue to fight."

The Democratic "machine," he declared, on one side gave workers "glowing promises," while on the other "its local agencies permitted the overloads of crime to go their profitable way."

"Machine politicians have acted toward the rank and file of organized labor like the thief who picks his victim on the back while he picks his pocket."

Dewey recalled his work as a machine prosecutor, mentioning especially the New York restaurant racket case.

In that industry, he said, collective bargaining had become a "tragic farce," but now, with the conviction of certain union leaders, "the gangsters are gone" and membership in the unions involved has increased four-fold.

"Labor itself," he went on, "glow that in all my dealings with the problems of organized labor, I understand and championed the aims of labor. They knew I wasn't afraid to fight against enemies of labor within or without."

Brooks Dies Today As Result of Fall At New Hackensack

Yarmouth Street Resident, 42, Succumbs at St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie, This Morning

Leaves Family

Wife and Four Children Are Survivors; Dies of Fractured Skull

Howard Brooks, 42, of Yarmouth street, this city, died this morning in St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie, of injuries he suffered in a 40-foot fall from a tree yesterday at New Hackensack, near Poughkeepsie.

Brooks, it was reported, was working with a crew from the U. S. Department of Agriculture on a tree project when the accident happened. Death was reported due to a skull fracture and several broken ribs.

The local man, who is the father of four children, was employed with several other men on the project of trimming and inspecting elm trees in the Poughkeepsie area. He is survived also by his wife.

Insofar as could be learned, Brooks fell from a limb 35 or 40 feet above the ground. It was said that he first landed on his feet and then fell over striking his head on the rocky ground of the vicinity in which the men were working. Other workmen went to his aid immediately and he was rushed to the hospital.

Loan Association Buys Uptown Land

Will Erect Modern Office Building Just South of Savings Bank

The Kingston Co-operative Savings and Loan Association, with offices at 293 Wall street, this morning took title to the 45 foot lot on Wall street just south of the Kingston Savings Bank and across from the lot a modern office building for the Loan Association. The property was purchased from the Kingston Club which owns the club house adjoining.

No plans for the new building have been made as yet but it was announced that the building will be along lines of small structures which house other Building and Loan Associations. Before deciding on the type of building other association buildings will be inspected to determine the needs of the local association. An officer of the association informed the Freeman, however, that no large office building was anticipated.

Morgan Reaction

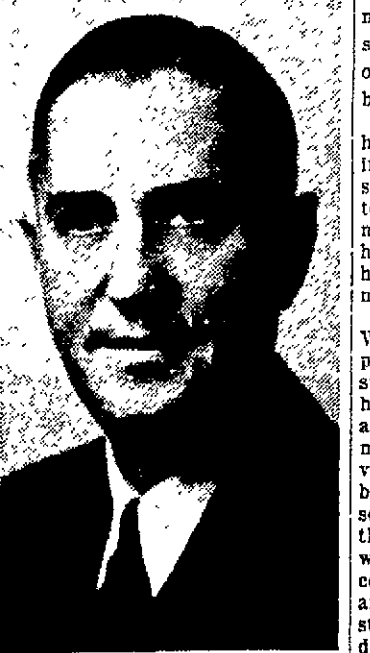

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP)—J. P. Morgan & Co. has termed "unjust and unwarranted" the criticism of two of its partners by the securities commission for failing to report Richard Whitney's criminal conduct. The commission, making public the third part of its inquiry into the closing of Whitney's brokerage firm last March, took Thomas W. Lamont of the Morgan Company sharply to task.

Retirement Rumored

Rome, Nov. 2 (AP)—Fulvio Suvich was said by a reliable source today to be planning to retire as ambassador to the United States November 12. Suvich's retirement was forecast several weeks ago after his appointment as head of a large Italian insurance company.

Senator A. H. Wicks Is Worthy Representative

Asset to Region

ARTHUR H. WICKS

Senator Arthur H. Wicks, veteran legislator, the friend of laborer, merchant, professional men and farmer alike, seeks his seventh term as a state senator on Election Day, Tuesday, November 8.

And, according to sentiment in his favor, the genial, hard-working representative of the 29th senatorial district will be returned to the state body by a large majority—a greater one than he has ever rolled up before, and he has been accorded some neat margins of victory.

Already a member of the World's Fair Committee, an important body, Senator Wicks stands a good chance of being honored further by appointment as chairman of either the committee on finance or public service. As head of either committee, but especially that on finance, the senator could continue to do things for his district in a bigger way than ever. Knowing this, his constituents, regardless of party affiliations are backing him strongly for the benefit of their district.

Alderman is suing Snyder for $255,000 damages for shooting him.

Democratic Alderman Launch Discussions On Planning, Budget

Donarumma Would Know Why Planning Committee Fails to Meet in Last Two Months—Nathan Favors Resolution Providing Budget Study Before Presentation

Charges that a city planning committee had failed to meet within the past two months, made by Alderman Donarumma of the sixth ward at a meeting of the Common Council last night started discussions at the session which adjourned 45 minutes of the one-hour meeting.

Another discussion followed when Alderman Nathan of the eighth ward asked that the council sanction a resolution which would put copies of the mayor's annual message and budget in the hands of members of the council 72 hours before it was officially presented.

The first discussion ended with an announcement by Alderman Zucca of the first ward that the planning committee would meet soon with plenty of work to do, and the second was concluded with a ruling of Alderman-at-Large John Schenck that Alderman Nathan's proposal was "out of order."

Councilman Donarumma, in complaining that the planning committee had failed to meet, declared that Alderman Zucca appeared to have time to stage "a jitterbug affair at the auditorium, but evidently had no time to devote to the business of the committee."

The alderman from the Sixth ward said that there was need of city planning and charter revision and to give his fellow aldermen an illustration he said that during the past summer much rebuilding of streets had been done in his ward by the public works board.

Street Torn Up

On one street a new pavement had been built and when completed the following day the water department moved in and proceeded to tear up the newly built street.

Then for seven weeks the trench remained open and the dust and dirt was annoying to residents of the street. He said he had taken the matter up and from what he was told there was a fight between the water department and the public works board as to who had the responsibility of replacing the torn-up street. Finally, however, the street was repaired and it had taken just 20 minutes to do the job. That showed, he said, that there should be something done to co-ordinate the work of the various city departments.

Alderman Donarumma said that if the city planning committee were too busy to function that the committee should be discharged and a new committee appointed.

Zucca Explains

Alderman Zucca in reply to Alderman Nathan's attack said that he was never so busy but he could find time to meet with any committee of which he was a member. He said that in regard to the two months' delay the first month had been devoted to committee meetings with the local barbers in regard to a proposed barbers' ordinance and the past month it had not been possible to find a date when the corporation counsel could meet with the committee. Alderman Zucca made it plain

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP)—The position of the treasury on October 31: Receipts $22,739,648.77; expenditures $27,475,342.29; net balance $2,569,150,637.94, including $1,959,768,359.38 work-in-progress balance; customs receipts for the month $20,797,152.75. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1) $1,841,147,163.25; expenditures $2,980,684,945.79, including $357,228,542.75 of emergency expenditures; excess of expenditures $1,139,537,782.54; gross debt $38,422,086,174.84; a decrease of $4,088,486.25 below the previous day; gold assets $14,064,294,136.87.

Seeks Law Budget

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP)—Senator Byrd (D., Va.), forecasting an increase in taxes, urged the administration today to trim budget estimates for the next fiscal year. Byrd said he saw no reason to change his previous prediction of a $5,000,000,000 federal deficit for the year ending June 30, 1939.

Hitler's Balkan Drive Moves Fast To Corner Wealth

Purpose of 'Drive to East' Is to Make Germany More Self-Contained; Operates on Barter System

No Threat Made

Yugoslavia Agrees to Nazis' Proposals and Watches Situation Anxiously

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Belgrade, Nov. 2 (AP)—Adolf Hitler's whirlwind campaign for economic domination of eastern Europe and the Balkans is proceeding with the facility of the Yale varsity going through a high school eleven.

He is meeting with no opposition since he forced France and England to acquiesce in his dismemberment of Czechoslovakia. It is one of the most amazing coups of its kind in history.

One purpose of this drang nach osten—drive to the east—is to corner the vast agricultural and natural wealth of this region to make the new and bigger Germany absolutely self-contained, especially as regards the always essential food supply.

At the same time a food-proof market is being provided for German goods.

I have talked with diplomats, officials and others in numerous countries affected and they profess to see another and far deeper purpose. They say they are unable to dissociate economic control from ultimate political control.

The latest country to agree to Hitler's sweeping economic proposals is Yugoslavia. This important Balkan kingdom has signed a new trade agreement under which the bulk of her products go to Germany. It is important to note that this is chiefly on the barter system.

True, Yugoslavia and neighboring countries already had been despoiling largely on Germany to absorb their products which are chiefly agricultural. Heretofore, however, there hasn't been the political threat which has existed since the Nazi annexations of Austria and Sudetenland.

Yugoslavia has signed with the anxious prayer that there will be no political development which will endanger her freedom. She wants to be left in peace, though her determination to fight for the preservation of her liberty will be doubted by none who remember how little Serbia, from which Yugoslavia grew, played David to mighty Austria's Goliath in the World War. This is a land of fighting men and one which most foreign countries would be inclined to handle with gloves.

If, as they fear, there may be danger to Yugoslavia and the other countries in the Hitler orbit, it lies in his ability to apply an economic squeeze in order to enforce a political end. He could bankrupt any one of the countries dependent on him for a market by cutting off its German imports.

Suggests Study Club

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 2 (AP)—The study club, Arthur H. Packard, Vermont State Farm Bureau president, believes, can easily become the "salvation" of the modern farmer. "Our forefathers settled their problems around the old grocery store stove," he told the 18th annual meeting of the Grange League Federation here yesterday. "Why shouldn't we organize study clubs to accomplish the same purpose?"

Summery Weather

Chicago, Nov. 2 (AP)—The Middle West basked in summery weather today as southerly breezes blew warm air northward from the Gulf states. Forecaster C. A. Donnel said temperatures in many sections undoubtedly would exceed those of yesterday in which case numerous new "heat" records for this late in the season would be established.

Dictatorial Aims

London, Nov. 2 (AP)—David Lloyd George in a caustic reply to Prime Minister Chamberlain's implied rebuke for his recent broadcast to the United States declared today "the prime minister seems to me to be acquiring dictatorial aims from his associations."

The wartime premier's speech to which Chamberlain was believed to have referred in his remarks to the House of Commons yesterday was made before the Free Church Federation and broadcast to America October 25.

Newburgh Council Asks For Neutral Prosecutor

Newburgh, N. Y., Nov. 2 (AP)—Newburgh's City Council has asked Governor Herbert H. Lehman to appoint a non-resident of Orange county, in which Newburgh is located, as special prosecutor to investigate city affairs as the result of a federal grand jury's report of "reprehensible" conditions here.

The council sent to the Governor a resolution, adopted yesterday, saying "inasmuch as the personal integrity of local city officials, both elective and appointive, in the past and present has been questioned (by the grand jury) this body would welcome the appointment of an investigator who is a non-resident of the county of Orange."

Governor Lehman, after a conference last Monday with Newburgh and Orange County officials, called for the minutes of the grand jury's inquiry, in connection with the operation of illicit stills in this city. He said he would study the transcript "before deciding what further action would be taken."

The grand jury, before reporting to the Governor, indicted 45 alleged members of a liquor ring charged with having operated the stills.

Premier Insists On Enforcement Of Italo Accord

Officials Estimate 1939 Construction To Equal 1923-1933

Billion-and-a-Half Program Must Be Substantially Finished by 1940, PWA Discloses Today

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP)—Public works officials estimated today that their $1,500,000,000 building program would bring public construction next year up to the average 1923-33 level.

The estimate was made in connection with a meeting of PWA field men, called here for instruction on actual construction phases of the new program.

All the projects authorized by Congress this year must be under construction by January 1 and substantially finished by June 30, 1940.

PWA has approved grants of $642,348,813 and loans of $11,431,150 for 6,215 non-federal projects to be built at an estimated cost of $1,428,812,811. An additional $195,919,701 has been allocated for 1,652 federal projects.

Officials said work has started on 912 federal projects and on 2,125 non-federal jobs. Fifteen small non-federal projects costing $872,972 have been completed.

Meanwhile, the administration was giving attention to another phase of the building industry in an effort to attract the capital of small investors into mass construction of small homes.

President Roosevelt disclosed yesterday that the administration was trying to work out a program to provide houses for families able to pay a monthly rental of $5 to $10 a room.

Those able to pay more have been provided for by the Home Owners Loan Corporation and the Federal Housing Administration. The President said, while the government's slum clearance program has added the lowest-income class.

FHA officials said that Gerard R. Lambert, a corporation executive who has been serving the administration as special advisor, had been working on a low-cost housing program for about six months.

The Lambert program would be aimed at attracting investments in small homes through partial tax exemption.

President Roosevelt expressed disapproval of the idea of tax exemptions for upper income brackets, but he was examining the possibility of tapping a vast pool of funds held by small investors.

The Chief Executive said previous programs had not reached persons who can afford to pay about $3,000 for a home built in the northern part of the United States.

He indicated he thought this might be achieved by a pool of funds for small investors who have $1,000 to $5,000 which they wish to place in a sound investment at 3 per cent interest or slightly more.

Chamberlain Refuses to Put Over Debate Another Day; Calls Pact Step Toward Appeasement

Arab Uprising

Demonstrations in Palestine Are Reported Spreading, 15 Are Wounded

(By The Associated Press)
Early enforcement of the Easter accord between Great Britain and Italy was insisted upon today by Prime Minister Chamberlain, who characterized the pact as "a step toward the appeasement of Europe."

Chamberlain refused to extend the single day, he had allotted for debate of his treaty with Premier Mussolini in the House of Commons.

From the Near East came word of a spread of Arab demonstrations against British rule in Palestine and Syria with 15 persons wounded in Beirut, capital of Lebanon.

France's new finance minister sought a solution to the nation's grave economic difficulties today while the British parliament met to consider putting into effect the Anglo-Italian friendship accord signed last April 16.

Paul Reynaud, who succeeded Paul Marchandeau as French finance minister after the cabinet had scrapped the latter's plan, cancelled all engagements and said he would remain in seclusion until next Monday drafting new proposals.

In Vienna, German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop and Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano started mediation of the Czechoslovak-Hungarian territorial dispute in the hope of quickly ending the troublesome central European situation left over from the German-Czechoslovak crisis.

Japan announced she intended to create a political and economic bloc in the Far East consisting of the Japanese Empire, Manchukuo and China in carrying out her "inimitable policy" for Asiatic reconstruction after the war with China.

She also made her final break with the League of Nations when the privy council in Tokyo approved a government measure terminating Japanese cooperation with various technical committees of the league. Japan resigned from the league in 1933 and her secession became effective in 1935.

The Tokyo newspaper Kokumin, claiming a series of editorials in the Japanese press against the open door policy in China, suggested that the British ambassador, Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, be called home on the grounds he had "deliberately misrepresented Japan's strength and resources."

Dispatches from Hongkong and Canton indicated Japanese air and naval forces bore the brunt of the extensive campaign radiating from Canton into South China. Japanese planes killed 50 persons and wounded 60 in an attack on Shiki, across the mouth of the Canton river from Hongkong, while naval forces pushed westward from Shihuhing, 35 miles south and west of Canton.

In Spain, insurgent and government troops fought for possession of hills which form the main defenses on the Ebro front. The progress of the battle was obscured by conflicting reports.

Asks 'Rededication'

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 2 (AP)—Governor Lehman believes Americans should "rededicate themselves to the ideals of American education" in celebration of American educational week November 6 to 12. "What America will become tomorrow rests with the children who are in school today," the governor said in calling attention to the celebration.

Ripley Mourns Loss

Ripley, N. Y., Nov. 2 (AP)—Cupid has flown from this former marriage haven and the village's "marrying justices" are thinking of taking down their signs, because of lack of business. Before New York passed laws requiring physical examinations and 72 hours notice before marriage, this village was a marriage mecca for couples from Pennsylvania and Ohio.

W. C. T. U. Convention Held In Poughkeepsie

(Official Report) We face a situation in our country today which calls for serious and honest consideration by every member of the Christian church as well as of our own organization. We face a world suffering from fear, hatred, economic insecurity, wars, dictators, purges, race prejudice, starvation in the midst of plenty, enforced limitation of production when communism and pagan-god fascism, ruthless alike in their efforts to destroy all opposition. When, if ever, America needed clear brains, sane thinking, and sound judgment it is today. And yet at a time such as this which calls for our very best, we have legalized the liquor traffic and empowered and authorized it to denigrate the brain and pervert the judgment of vast masses of the people. We have adopted a governmental policy which permits the liquor traffic to alcoholize our citizens, to destroy the faculties which relate to initiative, enterprise, ambition and invention and thus destroy their ability to meet our serious problems.

Alcohol deadens the spiritual and enables the baser side of human nature to gain ascendancy. By legalizing the liquor traffic we have as deliberately handicapped ourselves as if an enemy had plotted our destruction. Not only are those who use alcohol affected by its blight, but the whole nation suffers, for the liquor traffic injures the body politic as the liquor habit injures the physical body. The liquor traffic is a parasitic industry that thrives at the expense of legitimate business.

It corrupts politics and government. It wastes food. It weakens the man power of the nation. It injures public health. It is the handmaid of crime. It congests the courts. It fills our jails and almshouses and incurs a cost more than it returns in taxes.

It ruins our most valuable asset, the young manhood and womanhood of our nation. In closing Mrs. Colvin spoke of the alcohol education fund being raised. During the past four years New York has raised $70,000 toward its quota of $120,000, a larger amount than any other state has raised so far. New York has never failed to do its share and will not now. The Woman's Christian Temperance Union knows no defeat. We have determined that the liquor traffic must go. We will fight along this line if it takes a hundred years more. When we are gone our daughters will carry on. Her address was enthusiastically received.

Saturday afternoon two very stirring addresses were given. "Women, an Influence for Peace," by Miss Josephine Schaff, chairman of committee on cause and cure of war. The other was "Woman's Influence Over the Air," by Madame Yolanda Moro Irlon, chairman of women's national radio committee. Then followed introduction of guests, among them being Dr. Asa Matsuo of Tokyo, Japan, member of the women's committee of the society for social legislation with the League of Nations labor office in Tokyo, who was in Poughkeepsie on a courtesy tour for the Pacific New Education Association of Japan. In her speech at the convention she discussed the Japanese temperance movement and women's activities in Japan. Dr. Matsuo said the women are not fully satisfied with merely domestic life, but have invaded man's world, to find a more complete self-expression and usefulness. Dr. Matsuo is leader of the Youth's Temperance Council of Japan, a most gracious and charming person. She received loud applause.

Saturday evening was youth's night. Mrs. Clara A. Jacobs, general Y. T. C. secretary, gave an address, "Keeping Step With Youth," after which five minutes addresses were given by 14 of the young people, and a little play, "A Net Is Cast." All showed the splendid work these young people are doing.

Sunday morning the usual service was held in the church, with sermon by the pastor, the Rev. Christian B. Jensen. The large auditorium was filled, the service one of spiritual uplift.

Sunday afternoon Clinton N. Howard, chairman of International Reform Federation, spoke in the First Presbyterian Church in a crowded house. The Vassar College choir led by Prof. E. Harold Geer, furnished the music. Mr. Howard, known as the "Liquor Giant," spoke with his usual humor and enthusiasm. He declared the whole world had gone off on a drunk with the repeal of the 18th amendment. Russia is drunk on vodka; Japan is drunk on sake; Italy is drunk on wine; France is drunk on champagne; England is drunk on whiskey; and the United States is drunk on them all. He further asserted that liquor is the cause of all our troubles and that we are called to wake up in full in dollars, in lives, in homes broken, in youth debauched and girls betrayed, the cause of prohibition will return as inevitably as the resurrection followed the crucifixion of our Lord! Prohibition died, he said, because it was not prepared to live. A dry constitution and a wet administration was a moral monstrosity. It had to die to be reborn. It is a state of general decay and the sun of righteousness is shining. The speaker said the 18th amendment was put into the Constitution by God through the church; and taken out by the devil through the politicians. It was repealed because Uncle Sam refused to crack down on the nullifiers of the constitution as he cracked down on the violators of the administration code, not in the constitution or even enacted into statutory law. They put the code above the constitution and liquor above law. And now he said the whole country is suffering from a booze plot on the brain. But we never will accept defeat for a righteous cause. Truth is forever on the march, wrong not forever on the throne. Sunday evening an address was given by Judge Harry H. Porter, chief justice Municipal Court, Evansville, Illinois, chairman of committee on tests for intoxication for National Safety Council. Judge Porter said that six out of every ten auto accidents are attributed to alcohol, and cited statistics to prove the fact. The really dangerous driver is the man who has had a few drinks and is sure of his own sobriety and unimpaired driving perfection. Judge Porter demonstrated the "Drunkometer," a machine which tests the amount of alcohol a driver has had, by conveying the breath of the motor driver to the testing apparatus, which changes the color of the fluid in the tube. This is quite an accurate test and is being used quite largely in Indiana and a few other states.

Monday morning was mostly given over to raising money for the State Alcohol Education Fund. $2,136 in pledges, plus one hundred one dollar bills was given in honor of Dr. Ella A. Boole, world's president of the W. C. T. U., who was on the platform.

At 12:30 o'clock a pageant was given by members of Ulster County W. C. T. U., entitled "The Place of Prayer in the Program of God." This was very beautiful. Monday afternoon several addresses were given, one by Mrs. Athena Marmeroff, W. C. T. U. Missionary at Ellis Island. She told of the work with the immigrants in a very interesting manner. She speaks thirteen languages and has held the position for twenty-six years. The next speaker was William Bancroft Hill, D. D., of Vassar College, whose subject was "The Church and the Liquor Traffic." Dr. Hill declared the church has never been weaker than it is now, and said I blame the church more than I do the politicians for the repeal of the 18th amendment. He appealed to every Christian to stand firm for the right in every good cause. Prof. William J. Reagan, principal of Oakwood School, spoke on youth and alcohol. Prof. Reagan praised Robert B. Marriot, Alcohol Education Leader, for his technique in reaching the minds of young people. Dr. H. W. Keator of Kingston spoke on Alcohol and Social Dis-eases. He said that alcohol and venereal disease are bed fellows, and that acute alcoholism has a close correlation to venereal disease. His address received much favorable commendation.

The convention closed with a banquet at the Nelson House on Monday evening, October 17, with more than four hundred delegates present. The being Ella A. Boole, L. L. D., and the Hon. Hamilton Fish, Jr., member of Congress. Dr. Boole's subject was, "Shall I drink or leave it alone." She said total abstinence closes the door to drunkenness but moderation opens it, and asked that we take advantage of every opportunity to curtail and destroy the power of the liquor traffic. "What Groomsman Fish spoke on 'What Price Peace?'" He said if you women of this great state or nation believe one-half of what you read in the newspapers, or hear over the radio, you would look under your beds every night to see if there was not some lap, German, or Italian ready to depose on our poor little defenseless America and gobble up both North and South America. The armament mongers and war profiteers see a golden opportunity to spend billions of dollars for armament and implements of destruction at the expense of the burdened American taxpayers. With a national debt of 33 billion dollars and a deficit that will exceed five billion this year, instead of appropriating more money, we should reduce our expenditures, put our financial house in order, attempt to balance the budget and use the people's money for constructive and useful purposes and welfare of our people instead of trying to compete in world armament. Both addresses were heartily applauded. There came final advertisement by singing, "All Hail to Frances Willard." Attention, Grangers! Election of officers will be held Wednesday evening, November 2. Come out and help to elect good Grangers to the offices for the coming year. A short program will be presented, one feature of which will be a talk by H. M. Cameron on the roadside stand. There will also be a roll call of inventions.

HURLEY

Hurley, Nov. 2—An evening of entertainment and games will be held at the church basement this evening starting at 7:30 o'clock. The Missionary Society is sponsoring the program. A small admission will be charged and refreshments will be served.
A Men's Bible Class of the church has been organized. The men will meet on Monday evenings.
The local dart ball club will play in Kingston this evening. Trinity Lutheran will be their opponents.
Mrs. Adrian Courtney of Hempstead, L. I., was the week-end guest of Miss Catherine Burhans and James MacPherson.
George Bates is ill at his home. A number from here attended the Missionary Conference held last Wednesday afternoon and evening at the Fair Street Reformed Church.
The "With One Accord" movement which has been started in the church program is meeting with a great success. The Sunday School has increased in number as well as the church attendance.

HOME BUREAU

Lake Katrine
Lake Katrine, Oct. 31—On Thursday afternoon a meeting of the Lake Katrine Home Bureau unit was held at the home of Mrs. Edmund Osterhout.
The meeting was opened by the chairman, Mrs. William Powers. The vice chairman reported a membership of 22 for the coming year.

A letter was read from the president of the local P.T.A. asking that all Home Bureau members attend the P.T.A. meeting at the schoolhouse Tuesday evening, November 15.

Five lessons have been given in the sewing project for those who are making doll dresses. The first lesson for the members, who are making doll dresses, will be given at the Home Bureau office Thursday, November 3.

Following the business meeting a report of the family life conference held in Ithaca was given by Mrs. Auley Roosa and Mrs. Earl Sagendorf. The outlines were distributed for the lessons on "Developing a Pleasing Personality." The next meeting of the unit will be held at the home of Mrs.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Drill Work

Pittsburgh—Women believe in putting their best face forward—even in a dentist's chair.
Dr. H. Gaskin told the Western Pennsylvania Odontological Society the first thing women patients did at the dentist's was to fix their faces, lip stick and all.
"Then you have to ask them to remove it," he said, "and as soon as you finish, the first thing they do is repair their faces."

Wired-Up Yeggman

Los Angeles—This thief should be able to keep a jump ahead of police for a while.
M. C. Shireman, police sergeant, reported a brief case full of notes and plans for one of the most advanced police radio systems in America had been stolen from his car.
Shireman gathered the data on a tour of the nation's police departments. Unless the briefcase is recovered, he said, he must repeat the tour.

Home on the Highways

Des Moines, Ia.—Roger D. Williams may wake up some morning to find automobiles on the newly widened University avenue, whizzing by on both sides of his home.

Williams' house is in the middle of the area laid out for the new street and he has refused to accept the $5,700 condemnation price.

Since court action may delay the city's acquisition of the land, city officials say it may be necessary to run temporary roads on each side of his house.

SURROGATE AN IMPORTANT OFFICE

Of all the elective officials in counties of New York State, county surrogates hold the most important office because almost every man or woman during the course of their experience have some business with the Surrogate's Court. The Surrogate's Court is the people's court. It is here that every man, woman and child who has accumulated a dollar must have his estate passed on by the court. For that reason it needs a man of judicial mind and above all a man of unquestioned integrity.

The office of Surrogate is a judicial one and not a political one. Harry H. Flemming is a candidate this year for this important office and it has been said often by members of his own party and those of other parties that Mr. Flemming is a lawyer and not a politician. Voters will not bargain judicial office for partisanship. Mr. Flemming also has the temper of mind of one who should occupy this office which requires judicial temperament. Eminently successful in practice, he has come in contact with a large clientele and these same people will attest to his integrity and sound judgment.

For years he has been identified with the civic, religious and educational life of the city. Giving of his time and energy, he has accepted jobs cheerfully and performed these duties just as faithfully and efficiently as if a salary went with them. He is now a candidate for Surrogate and there is an opportunity to show our appreciation of his unselfish services. There are voters of all parties who will esteem this a delightful privilege.

NATIONAL UNITY

Recent world events have been scaring some countries to the point of insanity, but may scare America back to sanity. There are evidences of such a miracle now. The need of national unity is clearer than ever. In a selfish, wicked and unpredictable world we have to take care of ourselves. Nobody will do that for us. In fact, some nations will take pleasure in making it as difficult as possible. Our closest international friends outside of this hemisphere have their own troubles. We cannot count on the British navy any more—it has to cover too much territory. We have British good will, which is a moral help, but practically we are thrown upon our own resources as we have never been before. So we have got to hang together, to save our own skins and property and ideals, and take care of our human and territorial responsibilities in this New World. It is reassuring to feel that this necessary unity has already begun to develop. The shock of foreign events tends to make us snuggle up together, in spite of our differences of racial origin, political prejudice and social level. The current political campaign is less savage than many of us expected. Relations between capital and labor seem to be improving. There is more tendency for business and government to pull together for the restoration of prosperity.

All this is admirable and necessary, and should go much farther. If it does, the very evils that alarm us in the rest of the world will be for us a blessing in disguise. For there is nothing attainable by mankind that we Americans, with our resources and opportunities, cannot accomplish if we work together, of our own free will, as fully as some foreign nations are doing under stern compulsion.

BOYS' IDOLS

Small boys used to want to be firemen, motormen or candy store owners. Their idols were representative of the first two groups. An insatiable sweet tooth compelled the third choice. The point of view has changed with changing times. Two educators at Northwestern University conducted a questionnaire for grammar school children which showed that today's boys long to become aviators, engineers, athletes, doctors, or cowboys. How the last-named hold their own against G-men we can't say. Surely the movies and books most beloved of boys today contain little about cowboys. Perhaps it is the dude ranch variety which interests the lads.

What boys of grammar school age want to be and what they finally become are usually quite different. It is only occasionally that a child shows a marked interest which he follows throughout his education and into his working life. Sometimes, unfortunately, parents and teachers do not recognize an existing bent and force a child to follow a line of their own choosing, with disastrous results.

Progressive education, at its best, should help a child to discover and develop his specific talents and bring his plans to fruition.

The trouble with democracies, says a disgusted friend, is that "they're too doggoned polite."

The British Empire used to be described as "unity in diversity." What it needs now is "unity in adversity."

"If you've got to bet on elections," says a canny friend, "play safe—bet on both sides."

Same old law of compensation—as cars get easier to drive, they're harder to pay for.

'Smatter with men? Why should women have all the interesting hats?

 THE HEART ATTACK

When a patient has had a heart attack there may be a question as to whether the attack was due to angina pectoris—spasm or partial closing of the large blood vessel (aorta) into which the blood is pumped from the heart or spasm of the small blood vessel supplying the heart muscle—or to coronary thrombosis where there is actual bleeding forming a blood clot which closes off partly closes the blood vessel to the heart muscle. Ordinarily angina pectoris passes away in a short time, seconds or minutes, whereas coronary thrombosis may last for hours or days. What may help physicians to know more definitely which trouble is present and the extent of the danger present is the testing of the blood of the patient for its sedimentation rate—time the blood takes to clot, or time it takes for the red blood cells to sink to the bottom of the testing jar. Drs. J. E. F. Hisean and M. G. Brown in the American Journal of Medical Sciences state that the rate at which the red blood cells sink is increased—takes less time—where there is actual tissue damage or infection. Coronary thrombosis with its clot can be shown to have a more rapid rate than angina pectoris which is just a spasm, not bleeding or infection. A normal rate of sedimentation or sinking of the red cells on the fourth to twelfth day after an acute heart attack is good evidence that the attack was not coronary thrombosis.

The more rapid sedimentation rate is one of the most constant symptoms of coronary thrombosis especially within the first two weeks after the attack. You can readily see how this simple test will not only tell the physician whether the attack was angina pectoris or the more serious coronary thrombosis, but the sedimentation test tells him also the exact condition of the patient and the progress he is making or is likely to make.

The progress of the patient is reflected or told in the sedimentation rate and rest in bed is absolutely necessary until the rate at which the red corpuscles in his blood sink is normal or stationary for three weeks.

This simple test is thus of great value in estimating damage done and the length of time rest in bed must be prescribed.

Chapter 30
Thirty Hours

CRIMLY the rescue crew worked, perspiration streaking their blackened faces; grimly fighting until they were on the point of collapse, then others were relayed to take their places. Four hour shifts, rests between each grueling fifteen minute period. Engineers were there, checking the line of the tunnel; watching each deviation from the level which would connect them with the entombed miners, switching them back to that line after a detour was made around impene-

Each one managed a smile for Kathleen. "We'll get through in time, lass," they told her in their broad dialect.
 Heartened but thoughtful, she started back to the skip. She could more vividly realize Balm's position now. A dark hole, closed in on all sides; fire beyond the bulkhead burning up their oxygen; and that endless waiting, waiting, wondering if their comrades would break through in time, waiting in the dark without word from the surface of the rescue work.

Kathleen thought the sun on the hills had never looked as beautiful as it did when she reached the mouth of the mine; the young green of new grass, the far line of painted hills.
 There was nothing she could do. The work she had organized the previous night went on steadily without her. Jane Arthur headed the commissary, working tirelessly, urging food and more food on the rescue crews as though she would fuel their bodies with energy to break through of their own volition.

She rested a moment with Kathleen. "Thoughtful it was of you to let us MacDonald women work here. Did ye ken the agony 'twould been to be afar from news?"
 "I ken ye wanted to be right here," Kathleen confessed.
 "An' the talk ye gien us. It put the heart back, Balm allus said 'pray believe'. We're doin' that. Martha Graham, she who's expectin' slept all night, praise God. The baby's 't' be named for you, boy or girl, and she a MacDonald."

Kathleen smiled faintly. "Then let's pull for a girl, 'twould be a difficult title for a boy."
 "Aye," and Mrs. Arthur smiled also. "But he'll be born into a new world and could fair stand the scuff. The feud is over. The MacBrides are taking care of our chickens and children. A MacDonald killed a MacBride in that first time of trouble."

Kathleen sighed deeply. Then some good would come out of this. Balm would consider his life well lost. But she must not think of that. She had promised to meet him.

She thought then of Kit-Smyth, wondering if he had returned from wherever he'd disappeared to the previous night.

She went to the office and outside the door waited to eavesdrop with a cold dagger at her throat.
 Kit-Smyth was dictating a letter to Angus Gregory, President of The Golden Girl, Incorporated.

Bitter Anger
 EVERY gratifying to you to have this momentous problem settled in advance.

I located Young MacDonald in a flying field on the outskirts of Carsted. It took considerable, shall I modestly say, diplomacy, to make him meet until we could find an attorney and notary public that the contract be made legally binding.

I assured him Miss Gregory would not allow a rescue worker on the grounds of The Golden Girl until this business was attended to. A very astute young business woman, your daughter, Gregory then for neutrality where Miss Gregory's signature, as your representative, was all that was needed.

In the meantime I have everything organized and under way; commissary operating; crews dove-tailing each other, etc.
 Of course this will cost us several days' productive work, but in the long run it will save us the mine.

Kathleen's lips were reiterating a statement. "I assured him Miss Gregory would not allow a rescue worker."

What else had Kit-Smyth told Donald MacDonald? What kind of a picture had he painted of her as he bargained for the right-of-way?

And MacDonald, horror-stricken at what had happened; desperately eager to get to the scene of the trouble and held back to wait for a legal document because he believed it the only means of rescuing his men. No wonder he had condemned her. And what had she said to him in his hour of trouble...

White with the bitterest anger she had ever known, Kathleen walked into the office.

"It won't be necessary to send that, Mr. Kit-Smyth."
 "Well how do you do, Miss Gregory. I'm still suffering from the shock of learning your identity. Of course I was pretty sure of it all along, that's why I rented the house to you—"

"And why you made me get out so quickly when father came?" inquired Kathleen.

"Well, I thought you wanted me to pretend... and last night it was quite a relief to have someone directly connected with Mr. Gregory assume the responsibility of ordering the work to go on."

"I noticed that," observed Kathleen dryly. "But I was speaking of the letter you were dictating. I waited to find out just how far you would lie. And I am repeating, it won't be necessary to send that letter."

"Oh, yes I see, you've already sent the contract on to your father."

"No, I tore it up and threw it at Mr. MacDonald. You'll have to arrange another disaster so you can lie your way into another contract."

The door slammed as Kathleen went out. He could write anything he pleased now. She didn't care what he wrote to her father; she didn't know nor particularly care what her father, what anyone thought.

And then with a sudden uplift of hope she remembered that Balm had believed in Young Donald. And that Young Donald had been justified in his condemnation of her. He had felt towards her just as she had felt towards Kit-Smyth as he barred the miners from The Golden Girl.

Love From Afar

THAT night the sun sank behind the painted hills; the sky and hills were incarnadined with the blood red tint. The mine superstructure stood out like a grim scaffold, a rigid portent of the secret it covered.

Kathleen spent her time between the women at the commissary and the hospital, and visiting the bulletin boards. Those bulletins were so despairingly the same. A gain of a foot, two feet.

A flurry of excitement around the mine and newsmen ran swiftly, Kathleen joining them. "We're going to get another charge," Morgan reported. "We need room to work. It will give us a chance to timber in without stopping the forward push!"

The powder crew went down. Everything else seemed to stop. Would the blast cause a cave-in? Would it deter the rescue work further?

"Young Donald ordered it," said a voice.

There was visible relief.

"So that's where he is," thought Kathleen. "That is where he would be," she corrected herself.

A skip shot to the surface. The men marched off, hands stiff at their sides. They were carrying a stretcher. Blood, powder and rock dust were mixed on the face of the man who lay there.

Made fifty feet," he crowed in triumph and faintly.

Fifty feet, hours of work in half an hour, and as soon as the muck was cleared away, the diamond drills would continue boring on through.

Twenty-four hours had passed, then thirty.

Balm had said they could last thirty hours... providing he had made his way through to them; providing he had caught them before they tried a hopeless attempt to climb the winch shaft.

Kathleen found a shadowy corner and huddled there with a blanket over her shoulders. She could catch an occasional glimpse of Donald MacDonald from there; love him from afar. As soon as the men were safe she would go away and from the safety of her home in the east write him and tell him she was sorry she hadn't given him a chance to explain.

His battle with Kit-Smyth as soon as he had contacted them. He would have learned that she had fought for his men as he would have fought.

Meanwhile she could watch Kit-Smyth's reckless advance. Kathleen could see the two of them consulting. Kit-Smyth, despite his cunning qualities, was an expert engineer and he did know his mine.

A car drove down and a girl crossed the deadline. Bridget, Kathleen smiled and she came swiftly to her.

"Dear child, you'll freeze out here. My, I had a time getting here. I thought those blessed little brats would never get to sleep. I'm noble. Imagine tending the home fires when I wanted to be down here. T. T. no everything."

Kathleen told her everything she could think of.

And then they sat silently watching the change of crews until Bridget yawned.

"Those youngsters, of course they are sensitive to the atmosphere of the mine. Tension is almost visible in the air, but I can't do a thing with them. Norman and I have decided that we shall start using the rod from the first day."

Kathleen looked at Bridget. "Norman... Norman and you?"

And Bridget looked at Kathleen. "Darling, you're in your right mind last night when I told you we were engaged, weren't you? But you did act... Kathleen," she cried, "you thought it was Donald!"

PAGING THE DIES COMMITTEE!

By BRESSLER

Conway Protects Interests of Rural People of State

A "look at the record" of J. Edward Conway, Assemblyman from Ulster county, who seeks reelection this fall, discloses that since Mr. Conway has represented the people of the county he has been prominently identified with numerous important matters in Albany.

His determination to see that Ulster county at all times gets proper representation has won for him a reputation among his colleagues of the "watch-dog of Ulster county" and as a result of this attitude he has been given a position on several important committees. Prominently among them is his appointment to the Committee on Affairs of the City of New York, and as the only upstate man on that committee he is charged with the duty of acting as the "watch-dog" of interests of the rural people of the state. Appointment to this committee by the legislature is a real tribute to his ability. Knowing that he will perform a duty given him the legislature has seen fit to name him on this important committee.

Much is heard during this campaign of the public affairs of Albany county. It will be recalled that it was J. Edward Conway who back in 1936 asked for an investigation of affairs in Albany county. True his proposal was defeated but at that time he saw the need of an investigation of conditions which now are being openly and publicly discussed.

Never known to retreat from a fight, J. Edward Conway in Albany has a reputation of faithfulness to his county which has won for Ulster many important victories. His determination to win for his county that which is required has become so well known in Albany that public officials heed his demands. His determination in opposing adverse matters is equally well known and feared by those who would attempt to create legislation which would injuriously affect Ulster county.

As chairman of the General Laws Committee, to which is sent many of the important controversial matters of law, Mr. Conway has an opportunity to study those matters in detail. His appointment as chairman of that committee indicates that the legislature has confidence in his ability.

It will be recalled that Mr. Conway in co-operation with others interested in the New York City Water Supply Act, which has never been completely revised since its adoption years ago, undertook a revision of the act relative to condemnation proceedings. This is of utmost importance to Ulster county residents now that New York City has invaded the county again to gain an added supply of water. He sought to have revised the manner of payment of benefits to property owners and the manner of trial of actions in condemnation proceedings; also to have the city of New York pay the full assessed valuation of lands taken before entering on the premises and pending determination of the final award. The proposal passed by the legislature but was vetoed by the governor.

Under present law a person is paid half the assessed valuation of lands when the city takes possession, usually a sum far too small to permit the owner to re-establish himself. Mr. Conway will continue to seek to have this injustice remedied.

A reclassification of Civil Service employees which provides for a re-adjustment of pay according to work actually performed instead of according to title, was authorized last session. Mr. Conway was behind that bill. Prior to adoption of the measure the Salary Standardization Board had no power to re-adjust salaries according to work done by a

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—With so much dread over what will happen when Japan completes its conquest of China and when German trade pressure moves in on South America it should be interesting to remember that the United States has one vitally vulnerable spot which for one reason or another it cannot arm. That is Canada.

Canada is a sovereign (almost) and independent (almost) member of the British Commonwealth of Nations and as such might be expected, in a sense, to look out for its own defense. But Canadian officials are not coy about these things. They frankly recognize that the Dominion has only 11,000,000 population and cannot afford to build up defenses sufficient to keep out a first class invader.

FOR the United States, however, the condition is a horse of another color. Canada's lack of serious coast defense leaves a door wide open into the Yankee interior, either by way of Vancouver on the west or St. Lawrence point on the east.

What defense, then, has Canada? Ian Mackenzie, Canadian defense minister, discussing the 1938 military budget in the last Canadian Parliament in May, explained:

"I think it might be reasonable to assume," he said, "that in a major conflagration we should have friendly fleets upon the Pacific Ocean... There is no commitment or understanding in regard to these matters, but at this same time I think reasonable assumptions are possible."

F. D. R.'s Gesture

AS TO the Atlantic side, he said the "main deterrent to attack from Europe is the British fleet in North Atlantic waters." Just how happy Canada is now about the security offered by the North Atlantic fleet is another question, since the British "capitulation" to German demands at Munich.

But three months after Mackenzie publicly recognized the United States as one of its defenders, President Roosevelt similarly recognized the situation publicly. In a speech on his visit to Canada in August in connection with dedication of an international bridge at Thousand Islands he said the U. S. "will not stand idly by if domination of Canadian soil is threatened by any other empire."

They Work Together

IT IS a safe enough guess that regardless of any lack of "understanding" as mentioned by Mackenzie there is sub-rosa cooperation between U. S. and Canadian military and naval experts. Beyond that the situation may never be improved. There was a time when the United States looked upon Canada as its next territorial conquest. It was the big prize of the war of 1812—if we had won the war decisively. Again we looked longingly upon Canada after the Civil war as a recompense from England for her colonial neutrality. Probably not until the time of the World war did Canadians give up a real fear that the United States intended some time to "take over."

The Witch

"POOR little duck darling," quacked Mrs. Quacko as she tried to draw Yellow Beak under her wing. "He has been up too late. He is tired out and becoming nervous and fussy."

"I saw a witch," Yellow Beak cried. "I did, I did, indeed. And the witch was riding a broomstick and had a big hat and a black shawl over her. It must have been a witch for no other kind of old lady could fly—right past this very window."

"There, there," soothed Mrs. Quacko. "Put your head under your wing and draw close to my wing, too. You'll be asleep in no time."

She looked at Willy Nilly.

"When he becomes quiet," she added, "I'll put him up in your room for the night if you don't mind."

"Of course," agreed Willy Nilly. "But I saw a witch," cried Yellow Beak. Top Notch had gone to the window.

"The duck is right!" he cackled excitedly. "I did, I did, indeed. And the witch was riding a broomstick and had a big hat and a black shawl over her. It must have been a witch for no other kind of old lady could fly—right past this very window."

IS THE REAL MEASURE OF OIL BURNER VALUE!
Before you BUY Your OIL BURNER...
Don't take the "name" on the burner label as the only important thing. The burner itself is only the start—important to you is the reputation and stability of THE COMPANY THAT WILL MAKE THE INSTALLATION.
You cannot buy an oil burner the way you buy an automobile or refrigerator. These are "package propositions" that come to you complete ready for operation—there are no installation problems!
With an oil burner system unit or attached however, engineering ability is required. The burner itself is only 20% of the system—OUR CUSTOM BUILT installation designed for your particular need is the other 80%.
Look then to the background of the company with whom you are negotiating your purchase. This truly represents the important part of your decision. In this respect FRED M. DRESSEL'S years in the heating and heating appliance business best qualify and equip him to handle important contracts.
You are cordially invited to call Kingston 416 for our service or estimate on all heating and plumbing equipment.

worth the fight.

A small boy once was given two images of plaster, coated on the outside with pink sugar. He wanted to eat the images, but he was warned not to do so.

"They are poison," he was told. "If you eat them, it will kill you."

However, the boy was dubious.

He had been cheated before by grownup people. Finally, he had a young friend to spend the day with him and that night, it was discovered that one of the images had disappeared. His mother, nearly frantic, rushed to him.

"Harold," she said, "where is that pink image?"

Harold frowned, as he answered defiantly: "I gave it to Richard and it's alive tomorrow,

I'm going to eat the other one myself."

Saugerties Takes Red Cross Lead

An interesting bit of data concerning registrations in the annual Roll Call of the American

Red Cross, which will begin on November 11 and continue through November 25, has been released by Mrs. Charles Tappen, secretary of the local chapter.

This information concerns the percentage of people in the various town of Ulster county who responded in 1937 to the annual appeal of the Red Cross.

Leading the parade of towns is Saugerties with a listed population of 2,752 and 21 per cent enrolled last year. Following comes Gardiner with 10 per cent, and the Town of Kingston with

.08 per cent. The City of Kingston is listed at .06 per cent.

The selection of chairmen for the various towns in Ulster county and the wards in the city has been completed, and Mrs. Tappen announces that all is in readiness for the opening of the drive on

Armistice Day.

Group Will Meet For Jewish Cause

A meeting sponsored by the local Jewish and Christian laity and clergy to aid in keeping

Palestine open to persecuted

Jews, will be held tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A.

The Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool,

president of the Kingston Ministerial Association will be chairman of the meeting. An outline of the present situation in Palestine will be given and the issue involved clarified to those who attend. Several prominent local citizens, including Mayor Conrad

J. Helsenman, have expressed interest in attending the meeting.

Similar meetings are being held throughout the nation in the interest of preserving Jewish rights in Palestine and to urge the British Government to maintain its promise to the Jews and preserve their rights under the British mandate and the Balfour

Declaration.

The President of the United States has already expressed keen interest in the problem and the meetings are designed to rally public opinion.

Senator Wicks Worthy Candidate

represents—Ulster, Delaware and Greene counties—Senator Wicks has been received with open arms by those whose interests he looks after in the legislature. Most of them he can call by name, because he has conversed with the majority. The senator is not a hard man to meet. His office is always open. And he's always ready to listen.

"Represent your people honestly and to the best of your ability, regardless of political differences or other beliefs" has been the slogan of Senator Wicks ever since his first term in the state legislature and it has not failed in building his following into one of the largest enjoyed by any public office holder.

On Important Committees

Within the legislature, he is as popular as with his constituents, and can boast of being the only member serving on that body's Pair Committee. He has served on the most important committees—finance, public service, excise, public relief and welfare and reapportionment. His knowledge of state affairs is envied by many of his brother legislators, who often seek his counsel.

It can be truly said of the senator that he came up from the ranks, and is a self-made man. He has worked on engineering jobs for the city of New York, labored as a farm boy in Olive Bridge, and knows what it is to solve the problems of those pressed by business.

From that beginning as an engineer for a subway construction company, and later the board of water supply of the City of New York, A. H. Wicks has made his way up the ladder of success to an honored place as the operator of a thriving laundry business, president of the Governor Clinton Hotel Corporation, and as a New York state senator.

Laws He Sponsored

As a Senator, A. H. Wicks has sponsored some of the most important legislation, especially that affecting the man who is not overly blessed with worldly goods and who must labor for a living.

The original work relief law and all laws relating to work and some relief were sponsored by the Senator, and he designed them to benefit all the people of the state, not alone those of his own district.

The Catskill Mountain Park development was a Wicks bill, and would have been a great boon to the residents of this sector.

A bill for appropriating $7,000,000 for highway construction and reconstruction was introduced by the Senator, who felt that the large sums paid for gasoline taxes should go for use in such a cause, not alone for better roads but to give employment.

It was Senator Wicks' bill that called for distribution of milk to undernourished children to aid the youth of the state in physical growth and to help the farmers distribute their supply.

The toll bridge at Catskill across the Hudson, came as the result of Senator Wicks' untiring efforts and insistence that motorists be served.

The bill appropriating $300,000 for the new state armory here was his, and also that calling for $575,000 to build an addition on the New Paltz Normal School.

Sensor Wicks' meritorious career in the Senate warrants him another term, not alone as an appreciative gesture on the part of those who he has served, but that he may go back and continue his good work.

Don't forget on election day—pull the lever down over the name of Arthur H. Wicks and leave it down.

Nation Watches Progressives Scramble For Wisconsin Vote

PHIL LA FOLLETTE
Breaks with New Deal

F. RYAN DUFFY
Invited F. D. R. to help

(By the (AP) Feature Service.)

Madison—Big league politicians are keeping a wary eye on the Wisconsin campaign to gauge the appeal of Gov. Phil La Follette's National Progressive party to voters throughout the country.

The situation is unusually scrambled even for Wisconsin. A victory is possible for any candidate.

Governor La Follette seeks reelection and is opposed by Julius P. Holt, Republican, and Harry Bolens, Democrat. Bolens was chosen to make the Democratic race after Robert K. Henry withdrew.

Progressives Challenge Duffy

The Progressives are making a bid for a second senatorship with Herman Ekern seeking to unseat Senator F. Ryan Duffy, Democrat. Alexander Wiley is the Republican candidate. John B. Chaplin, defeated for Republican nomination, is running as an independent.

Pastor Declines Call to This City

The Rev. Philip B. Cooley of East Meredith, who was extended a call to become pastor of the Rondout Presbyterian Church has declined the call, and has accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church in Baldwinville.

At a meeting of the session of the downtown church held on Tuesday evening at the home of Arthur H. Russell on Brewster street it was decided to call a day evening, November 10, in the chapel of the church to take action on calling a pastor.

This evening the session and the officers of the various organizations of the church will hold an important meeting at the home of Mr. Russell to discuss the affairs of the church.

The church has been without a pastor since the resignation of the Rev. James N. Armstrong, Jr., who had resigned to accept a call to become pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Southampton, L. I.

At the meeting this evening plans for the congregational meeting will be discussed, and several important matters decided which will be taken up at the meeting later in the month.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Nov. 2—Mrs. Floyd Ellsworth called on Mrs. Edgar Freese at her home on Elmendorf street, Kingston, yesterday afternoon.

The Windram children are mourning the loss of their pet terrier, Bobby. He died of old age. A social and card party will be held at the St. Remy fire house on Thursday, November 3, at 8:30 o'clock. Refreshments will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Nable are entertaining Mrs. Nable's niece and young son, Mrs. Martin Vandermark and Martin, Jr., of Germantown, as their house guest. George Frick of Woodhaven, L. I., was a week-end guest at the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. A. Mayer of South Broadway. He stopped enroute to Ulster where he will remain for a week's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Broadhead and young son are living with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spinnenweber of Salem street. Mrs. Broadhead is the former Kathleen Spinnenweber of this village.

Mrs. Charles Van Orden is ill at her home on South Broadway. Mrs. Clara Marvin and her sister, Mrs. Inez Lappman, were callers in the village on Sunday. Mrs. Stella De Groff of Kingston called on Mrs. Leona Dougherty and Mrs. Elvin Hutchings this past week.

Miss Lillian Neice of Newburgh is a guest at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neice, of Main street.

Young Donald Newton met with an accident, injuring his eye. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rooka and family of Stone Ridge were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Bonesteel.

William Webster is ill at his home on Salem street. His friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Miss Edna White attended the Lyceum at New Paltz last evening.

The senior choir of the Reformed Church will hold its weekly rehearsal tomorrow evening, Thursday, November 3, at 7:30 o'clock. Members are urged to be prompt as preparations will be made for the evening musical service Sunday, November 6.

Junior choir of the Reformed Church will rehearse tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Many out of town people attended the Reformed Church turkey supper last evening. A salad supper will be served tonight at 5:30 o'clock until all are served. William McConnell is ill at his home.

Eosop Council, Daughters of Liberty, will meet tonight 7:30 o'clock in the lodge rooms in Pythian Hall.

3 COMPLETELY NEW CARS
HUDSON One-Twelve • HUDSON Six
HUDSON Country Club Series

SENSATIONAL NEW Airfoam Ride WITH AUTO-POISE CONTROL

You'll be amazed at the new Airfoam Ride with Auto-Poise Control—unmatched riding comfort and driving control, from two revolutionary inventions! You'll be delighted with the new Handy Shift—the steering wheel, combined with unequalled front seat room for ease! Wait until you see the new Dash-Locking Safety Hood (exclusive)—hinged at the front. Hood latches are operated by lever inside the car. When you lock your car you lock your hood; battery and engine parts safe from theft! You'll cheer for the new Carry-All Luggage Compartment (concealed trunk)—A wholly new way of mounting the spare tire gives amazing roominess, yet tire can be removed without disturbing an ordinary load of baggage. And your eyes will open wide at the beauty and luxury of Hudson's new Salon interiors! Come and see for yourself!

New Country Club Touring sedan—6 cylinders, 125-in. wheelbase, 101 horsepower—$995, delivered in Detroit, fully equipped; including Federal taxes, not including state and local taxes, if any.

Hudson's Weather-Master Fresh Air and Heat Control available in all models.

HUDSON PRICES START AMONG THE LOWEST and mean what they say

Visiting Puppets Draw Many Children

A group of children estimated at approximately 300 were entertained Tuesday afternoon by the Kingsland Marionettes who were brought to the city by Wiltwyck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. The marionettes gave two performances in the Y. M. C. A. and one in the evening for the children and one in the evening performance was not so well attended the enthusiasm for the little "actors" was pronounced.

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" and "Noah's Ark" were the plays performed in the afternoon. Among the children were the residents of the Industrial Home who attended in a body as the guests of Mrs. Lancelotti Phelps.

The Adventures of Marco Polo were related in the evening and gave impressions of the colors and richness of the Chinese settings. The first in five scenes, the second in the Chinese garden, the third in a Chinese street scene, and the fourth, the garden again, and the last, the court scene. By the way of contrast an interlude of dancers, clowns and the ever popular, "Bruin," the bear, were presented before the closing specialty in the company of an old time minstrel show which the puppets entertained.

This was the second time the marionettes have performed in Kingston. Last year they were presented under the auspices of the Married Women's Club of the Y. W. C. A. The clever manipulation, dialogue and artistic skill of Mr. and Mrs. Cedric H. Head, make their marionettes always popular.

Mrs. Pratt Hostess

Mrs. Harcourt J. Pratt, of the Governor Clinton Hotel, entertained at a formal dinner party and bridge at the Tiskilwa Inn, Chichester, on Monday evening. The guests were Dr. and Mrs. Frank B. Seely, Judge and Mrs. Joseph M. Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Walton, Mrs. George Hutton, Mrs. Annie K. Fuller, Judge G. D. H. Hasbrouck and Robert S. Rodde.

Given Surprise Birthday Party

A surprise party was given Friday in honor of the birthday of Richard Rice at his home on Pine Grove Avenue. Music for dancing and singing was furnished by Charles Cole and his quintet. A late hour refreshment was served and the guest of honor was presented with a birthday cake and many gifts. Those present were Marjorie Rice, Olive Engle, Marjorie Galvin, Madeline Freer, Beale Clark, Allen Rockwell, June Rice, Annabelle Broom, Frank Glenon, Charles Cole, Cladio Manchette, Walter Vessel, Michael Frost, Louis Vessel, George Clark, Mr. and Mrs. John Rice, Mrs. H. J. Galvin, Jack Rice, Marilyn Rice, Margaret Rice, Patricia Rice and Ellen Rice.

Halloween Party at Samsonville

Miss Ruby M. Cure was hostess at one of the most successful parties of the week Halloween night for her pupils of the Samsonville school at the church hall. The larger children paraded in the grand march and prizes were awarded as follows: Edith Allen, dressed as Queen of Hearts, prettiest costume, a watch; Irene Kelsey, dressed as a belle of the gay nineties, second prize, a fountain pen; Helen Svensen, as the most original, a box of candy. Alfred Johnson, dressed as the booby prize, as the freckle-faced boy. The smaller children had their grand march and Charles Kelsey, as a hobo, costumed by Mrs. Jesse Shurtler, won first prize; Alex Jeffs, as Father Divine with a peace sign on his back, most original prize; Jesse Jeffs, second prize, as the most comical, were selected by the judges. Mrs. Kate Bartinger, Mrs. William Vanderlo and Mrs. Harvey Carlton Locke.

Games directed by Miss Cure, "Hill the Witch" and "Catch the Kitty," were greatly enjoyed. The surprise feature of the program was the story of "The Magic Colors," an original story, which was written and dramatized by Mrs. Harvey Carlton Locke, formerly Kathleen Carson, an actress of radio station WRC, and head of dramatic department of Rutledge School in Washington, D. C. An imaginary and transference of the story, and atmospheric cloak created intriguing illusion in Mrs. Locke's presentation of the fairy tale as she slipped from character to character with great fluency.

A typical Halloween supper was served to the children and their parents on gaily decorated tables with black and white grinning at the guests. Those present were: Edith Allen, Alice Joffe, Irene Kelsey, Helen Svensen, Evelyn Svensen, Dorothea Bartinger, Florence Dwyer, Mary Joffe, Jesse Jeffs, Thelma Kelsey, Gerald Kelsey, Charles Kelsey, Grace Quick, Geraldine Bartinger, Lawrence Bartinger, Vincent Bartinger, Carol Bartinger, Wilson Quick, David Bartinger, Clayton Bartinger, Ross Bartinger, Harry Keaton, Jr., Frank Bartinger, Herman Quick, and Ails Quick.

Mr. and Mrs. William Vanderlo, Mrs. Fred Haver, Mrs. Kate Bartinger, Mrs. Olga Svensen, Mrs. Mary Moore, Mrs. Arthur Bartinger, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bartinger, Mrs. Percy Jeffs, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Keaton, Mrs. Olin Bartinger, Mr. and Mrs. Lygo Quick, Mrs. D. C. Van Etten, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelsey, Mrs. Irving Bartinger, Miss Ruby Cure and Mrs. Harvey Carlton Locke.

Musical Service at Port Ewen

Sunday evening, November 6, the second of the special evening services will be presented at the Port Ewen Reformed Church at 7:30 o'clock. This will be a service of music by the choir, with assisting guests, all under the direction of Miss Eva Clinton, the director of the choir. These services will be remembered from last year as especially noteworthy. The public is invited. The musical program for the service is as follows:

Organ Prelude, Mrs. Floyd Beesmer, organist.
Hymn, 211, "Fair Lord Jesus," Old German.
Lead Kindly Light, Smith.
The Choir.
Grand Offering, Batiste.
March Pontificale, Gounod.
Mildred Beesmer, Organ.
Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled, Speaks.
Eva Clinton, Contralto.
Crossing the Bar, Barnby.
Choir.
O Lord Most Holy, Arcadelt.
William Anderson, Clarinetist.
Deep River, Negro Spiritual.
Song of Farewell, Mendelssohn.
Chorus Quartet.
William Anderson, Ralph Broughton, Thomas Tomshaw, Robert Hines.
Cradle Song, Hauser.
Barcarolle, Offenbach.
Simple Aven, Thome.
Violin Ensemble.
Janet Noble, Edith Bell, Robert Luck, Emily Lounsbury, Eva Clinton.
Hymn 283, "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go."
The hymns will be accompanied by William Vanderveer on the cornet.

Halloween Hayride

A gala Halloween hayride was held Saturday evening. The young couples gathered at the home of Evelyn Van Kleeck where a truck, loaded with hay, awaited

Family Reunion and Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. George Jordan of 20 Park street, who were married a few weeks ago, were honored Friday at a family reunion and dinner party. The group above are left to right, seated: Mrs. John Ham Jordan, Mrs. William Pardee, Mrs. Catherine Bode, Mrs. W. L. Standing, left to right, Mrs. Eunice Droulette, Mrs. Dorothy Giles, William Lawless, Joseph Jordan, Joseph Jordan, Jr., Donald Droulette, Martin Jordan, Jr., Raymond Droulette, William Pardee, Jack Jordan, Leo Jordan and George Jordan.

The joyous group. Those who climbed aboard were: Alice Himmelsberg, Helen Sutherland, Ruth Hudler, Hattie Sutherland, Gertrude Drisel, Evelyn Van Kleeck, William Chaney, Joseph Van Kleeck, Edward Baile, Raymond Van Kleeck, Walter Himmelsberg, and Charles Goss.

Dance at Emma Wygant School

On Friday evening, November 4, a dance will be held at the Emma Wygant School on the South Flatbush road. The funds derived from the profits of the dance will be used to help defray the expenses of the school's dental clinic this year. Miss Catherine Hilt and Miss Josephine Quarantone, co-chairmen of the committee will greatly appreciate the support of the public. Rodney Dullos and his orchestra will furnish the music for dancing from 9 to 1.

Pinochle Party Tonight

Camp No. 30, Patriotic Order of America, extends an invitation to all members and friends to attend the pinochle party to be held at Mechanics' Hall this evening at 8:30. Refreshments will be served.

Gardens Club to Meet

A meeting of the Little Gardens Club will be held at the home of Miss Lottie Johnston, 127 Down street, Friday at 2:30 o'clock. This will be the last meeting of the year and a full attendance is desired.

Lowell Club Discusses Whitman

Lowell Club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James Guttridge on Irving Place. Another member of the Hall of Fame, Walt Whitman, was discussed by Mrs. William Deplane, who gave a brief review of his life, and Mrs. O. D. Ingalls, who read selections from the poet's work. At the close of the meeting there was an informal discussion of the new books that have recently appeared concerning Whitman. A roll call of current events preceded the afternoon's discussion.

Kurt Heiselman Host

Kurt Heiselman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris F. Heiselman of Linderman Avenue was host at a Halloween party Monday evening at his home. His guests were Janet and Barbara Kelly, Joan McCord, Sally and Tommy Baker and David and Billy Raff.

Hospital Party Successful

Even the weather man cooperated with the Auxiliary of the Kingston Hospital Tuesday afternoon in making the card party and food sale successful. It was a beautiful day, the auxiliary members rallied to the call and also, many women in the city who are not members gave contributions to the sale and expressed their desire of becoming members. A fact which is particularly gratifying to the organization. Tickets for 80 tables of bridge were sold. The Nurses Home of the hospital was crowded with every available space used for the 40 tables which were in play there and additional tables were in play at private homes throughout the city. Halloween refreshments and decorations were used for the festive spirit. Mrs. Frederick Snyder was chairman of the card party and Mrs. Arthur Wicks chairman of the food sale.

Garden Club Closes Season

The last meeting of the season of the Ulster Garden Club was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles De La Vergne on Clinton Avenue. The guest speaker of the afternoon was Miss Dorothy Jenkins, formerly connected with the Brooklyn Botanical Gardens, who spoke on "Perennials for Succession and Satisfaction." Following the meeting the hostess served tea. She was assisted by Mrs. James O. Winston and Mrs. Frederick Warren, who poured. Preceding the meeting Mrs. Jenkins was entertained at luncheon by Mrs. Henry Lambert Bibby who had as her other guests, Mrs. William Kraft, Mrs. Harold King and Mrs. G. V. D. Hutton. Arrangements for the speaker were in charge of Mrs. Kraft, Mrs. King and Mrs. Bibby.

Second Newburgh Concert

The second in the series of winter concerts at Newburgh will be heard Thursday evening in the Free Academy Auditorium. The artists will be the English piano team, Ethel Bartlett and Rae Robertson. The program will be given in four parts and will include the Bach "Toccata in D," the Saint-Saens variations on a theme of Beethoven, numbers by Infante, De Falla, Brahms, Liszt and Chasins.

Featured Artist at Victory Ball

Bernice Stevens, one of the featured artists of the 20th Annual Victory Ball of Kingston Post, American Legion, to be held at the Municipal Auditorium on the evening of Armistice Day, November 11, is a young and virile originator of fun and comedy. Miss Stevens is a rising star in the firmament of great American entertainers. Her side-splitting songs, impersonations and mimicries should prove very interesting and amusing to the patrons of the ball.

The entire entertainment is being planned to give the audience a fast-moving diversified program. The Daise Sisters, an exceptionally fine team of girls doing spectacular feats that are not attempted by females, will open the show. Following in close order will be "Senator Ford," Vince Monte, Dorothy Iles, The Macinis and the Original Sextet of dancing jitterbugs. The latter set is one of the best to be offered in Kingston for the set includes winners of the Daily News Harvest Moon Ball and the Benny Goodman Swing Carnival.

At a meeting of the committee in charge of arranging the details of the ball, held at the Legion building last evening, it developed that preparations are going along in fine fashion. Past Commander Harry Kirschner, chairman of the ticket committee, received reports of favorable success on the part of the members of his committee. Other committee heads reported progress towards preparation for the ball.

The local legionnaires are making every effort to stage a ball that will be one to be remembered for a long time. This particular affair will mark the 20th annual ball that has been held to raise funds for the welfare fund of the local post.

A moderate sized crowd enjoyed the full musical concert presented last evening by the choir of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church. The program consisted of selections by the choir, and two humorous skits, "Dogs" and "Frogs" which were greatly enjoyed by the audience. Harrison Slocum of Newburgh, guest soloist on the program, was escorted by Ronald Swayne, pianist, played several selections. The choir's rendition of Frank's "150th Psalm" was particularly well rendered. Incidental solos were taken by Helen Schoonmaker and Ralph Reed. Following the program the Ladies' Auxiliary served refreshments.

Daniels-Linchurst
Miss Caroline E. Lindhurst of 194 Downs street and Charles W. Daniels of Poughkeepsie were united in marriage on October 30, by the Rev. Ernest L. Witte, pastor of the Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church. They were attended by William F. and Mildred C. Crosby of Ardsley street.

Home-Made Candies Go Over in a Big Way

Know Tips for Luscious Fudge Fudge so creamy it melts in your mouth! And does it make a hit with Pete!

Try these tricks for super-fudge, you'll never miss. So you won't overcook or burn fudge, keep the flame medium. If you have a thermometer, cook to 238°. Or test for "doneness" by taking pan off the fire and pouring a teaspoonful of fudge into a shallow cup of cold water. If you can pick up the fudge in a soft ball that just holds its shape, the candy is done.

To get that smooth-as-silk quality, remove during cooking the drops of syrup that form on sides of pan, using a damp brush. After cooking wait till fudge is nearly cool, then beat for all you're worth, till a little dropped from the spoon keeps its form. If in spite of everything, fudge gets too hard, add enough milk or water to keep it from burning, and recook.

All kinds of delicious fudge recipes in our 32-page booklet—peanut butter fudge, honey fudge, marshmallow fudge. Chewy candies. Britzies. French creams. Christmas candies. How to dip chocolates.

Send 10c in coin for your copy of SECRETS OF SUCCESSFUL CANDY-MAKING To the Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 635 Sixth Ave., New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

How to Ease CHEST, COLD MISERY

FIRST—massage throat, chest, and back with Vicks VapoRub at bedtime. This relieves the distress.

THEN—to make its long-continued action last longer, spread a thick layer of VapoRub on the chest and cover with a warm cloth.

LONG AFTER sleep comes, VapoRub keeps working—loosens phlegm—clears muscular soreness or tightness—clears air-passages—eases coughing—relieves lung congestion.

Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

New Hudson Cars On Display Here At Black Agency

Peter A. Black, who has been the local distributor for Hudson automobiles for many years, has a complete line of the new 1939 Hudson cars on display at the show rooms on Clinton Avenue at Main street. An inspection by the public is invited.

Hudson for 1939 has three new lines of cars covering the entire price and size range from the modest cars to the large and luxurious models. The new cars for 1939 are Hudson 112, Hudson Six and a new Country Club series with both six and eight-cylinder motors. New styling and many mechanical features are included in the new cars.

All three lines of passenger cars are distinctive in their styling as regards exterior appearance and interior fittings. Hudson Country Club models have die-cast grills and two cut-walk grill sections with headlights flush in the front fenders.

The new models are the Hudson 112 in the lowest price field with 88 horsepower and 112 inch wheel-base; a new Hudson Six with 96 horsepower and mounted on a 118-inch wheel-base; a new Country Club series with both six and eight-cylinder engines giving respectively 101 and 122 horsepower and mounted on a 112 inch wheel-base. Then there is also the special eight-cylinder Custom Sedan with the large motor and mounted on a 129-inch chassis.

The largest model is priced in the moderate price field.

In addition there are business cars of a half-ton and 3/4 ton capacity.

Features on the 1939 Hudson are Auto-Police ride control which is said to overcome gyroscopic or centrifugal forces and keep the front wheels in line, preventing sway and stabilizing the car even in high winds. This device keeps wheels in line and pointed head at all times. Then there is an addition to the upholstery known as Airfoam seat cushions. This cushion of latex ventilates and cushions and permits a free flow of cooling air in hot weather. It is this type of cushion which is used on the crack transcontinental airliners and on streamlined trains for the utmost in comfort.

Hudson for 1939 has "Double-Safe" hydraulic brakes but also the safety reserve of mechanical brakes.

There is greater vision in all models by an improved styling of the hood and wind-shield. The front compartment is cleared by use of the Handy-Shift "remote control" gear shift which gives a real three passenger front seat. Handy-Shift may be incorporated with Hudson's "non-free-wheeling" automatic clutch, making it unnecessary for the driver to use the clutch pedal at any time during the car's operation. The Selective Automatic Shift, pioneered by Hudson, is also available. Draft-free ventilation is provided on all three lines by which heated fresh air is admitted to the car.

A hood which locks down from the inside to prevent tampering with the motor is also a feature. Cooling is improved, non-crystallizing type bearing metal is used for main and connecting rod bearings, and there is improved carburetion. Interior fittings have been improved and the luggage space at the rear has been increased in the models without trunk to 20 1/2 cubic feet. There is a new headlight beam indicator on the dash. In the Country Club models a new dome light in the front compartment floods the car with light.

All models come in various body styles.

Veal Curry

1 pound breast of veal
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped carrot
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped tomato
1/2 cup chopped mushroom
1/2 cup chopped parsley
1/2 cup chopped dill
1/2 cup chopped chives
1/2 cup chopped basil
1/2 cup chopped oregano
1/2 cup chopped thyme
1/2 cup chopped marjoram
1/2 cup chopped sage
1/2 cup chopped rosemary
1/2 cup chopped lavender
1/2 cup chopped sage
1/2 cup chopped rosemary
1/2 cup chopped lavender

Cut veal into one-inch pieces and sprinkle with flour and seasonings. Brown in fat heated in a frying pan. Add rest of ingredients. Cook and let simmer for 30 minutes. Stir several times.

Boiled "e"

2 cups boiling water
1/2 cup rice
1/2 cup salt (washed)
Add salt to water and slowly add rice so that the water does not stop boiling. (Doing so will help keep the rice from sticking to the bottom of the pan.) Let boil vigorously for 20 minutes. Pour into a strainer and rinse thoroughly with boiling water. Heat for five minutes in the oven. Cover with curry.

Oriental Fudding

1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup vanilla
1/2 cup lemon juice
Blend together the sugar, flour, salt and cinnamon. Add juices and water. Cook slowly and stir constantly until a creamy mixture forms. Add the rest of the ingredients. Cook for one minute. Chill.

Two Courses Being Offered

Two courses are being offered in the city of interest to the Jewish residents. Rabbi Bloom will teach Jewish customs and ceremonies and Jewish history at his home, 225 Main street, Thursday afternoons from 4 until 5 o'clock. All Hadassah members or anyone interested are urged to attend. On Tuesday evenings Rabbi Isidorowitz will lead a beginners' class in Hebrew at the Hebrew School on Post street.

Rosch Powder Kills Two

Columbus, O., Nov. 2 (AP)—Rosch powder, mistakenly used as baking powder in cookie batter, caused the deaths of two inmates and illness of 14 others at the State Hospital for Feeble Minded, Superintendent F. L. Keiser said today.

Cooperative farm marketing and purchasing associations are doing a gross business of $2,750,000 annually.

Industrials and Utilities Showed Losses on Tuesday

The rail averages just got in under the wire to show a fractional gain in yesterday's trading on the New York Stock Exchange, but industrials and utilities closed the day with losses. With trading totaling 1,350,000 shares for the day, industrials showed a loss of 0.34 point, to 151.33 in the Dow-Jones averages. Rails were up 0.01 point and utilities were off 0.41 point, to 23.94. The market opened up and gained during the middle of the day, selling off in the last hour or so. There seems to be belief in some quarters that some stocks have caught up with business prospects and that it will take further business improvement to send them higher.

Bonds were irregular, commodities mixed. Wheat was off as much as 1 1/2 cents a bushel in Chicago; hides were off 5 to 12 points. Sugar was unchanged to up 7 points and rubber was up 1 to 20. Cotton was off 2 to up 2 points.

With the federal government having approved a further gift and loan to the city of Chattanooga of $3,275,000, making a total of approximately $7,500,000 for the construction of a competitive power distribution system in that city, the Chattanooga Power Board has again requested that negotiations be resumed for partial sale to the city of properties of the Tennessee Electric Power Co. The board's latest move was made in a telegram to President Wilkie of Commonwealth & Southern, of which the Tennessee concern is a subsidiary.

It is stated that the Tennessee Co. has sold such parts of its property as can now be sold, if the company is to be saved from destruction by competition of the proposed city owned and federal government subsidized corporation.

It is estimated that freight car loadings in the final week of October have taken a sharp upturn, narrowing the spread between this year and 1937. The gain would expand gross revenues of a number of railroads over September and bring them within striking distance of October last year.

There is seen probability that L. & N., with carloadings holding up, may declare a dividend either in December or January.

It is believed that the current high rate of wages in the steel industry, at present employing approximately 450,000 men, will be maintained at least until present contracts with the SWOC expire next February. New agreements with the union will depend largely upon early 1939 production. The present base rate in the industry is $5 a day minimum for a 40 hour week. Steady increase in operations, action of the emergency railroad board and the former price situation are some of the principal factors leading to maintenance of the present scale.

New York Telephone Co. reports net income of $26,250,412 for the quarter ended September 30; in the same quarter last year the company had net of $6,642,952. Electrical Corp. had net of $301,435, or 24 cents a share, in the September quarter vs. $541,657, or 44 cents last year. Holland Furnace's net of $640,632, or $1.37 a share, compares with $623,054, or $1.25 a share last year. Mack Trucks, Inc., had a deficit of $282,337, in the quarter ending September 30, vs. net income in last year's quarter of $324,327, or 54 cents a share.

In the nine months ended September 30, American Water Works had net income of $1,365,924, or 20 cents a share, vs. $3,189,204, or 38 cents a share in the same period last year. Lone Star Gas Corp. net for the period was $2,914,784, or 45 cents a share, vs. $4,545,084, or 75 cents a share last year.

For the 12 months ended September 30, American Light & Traction had net of $4,670,954, or $1.40 a share, vs. $5,846,684, or $1.82 a share in preceding year. Dixie Vortex, for the same 12 months had net of $729,118, or $1.33 a share, vs. $946,450, or $2.45 a share in previous year.

In order to conserve cash for improving and expansion Standard Oil of New Jersey has declared an extra dividend payable in capital stock, at the rate of three shares for each 200 now outstanding. This is in addition to a regular semi-annual dividend of 50 cents on common.

With a sharp upturn in business during the past few weeks, it is expected that earnings of Hercules Powder Co. for the current quarter will be considerably above the $741,501, or 46 cents a share reported for the September quarter.

According to Henry Ford, "A man who can't find a job doesn't deserve one."

Local Death Record

Funeral services for Harvey Roosa, superintendent of the Board of Public Works, this city, who died on Tuesday will be held at the funeral home of V. N. Lasher in Woodstock on Thursday at 1:30 p. m. The Rev. Mr. Hudson of the Woodstock M. E. Church will officiate. Burial will be in Mt. Tiempur Rural cemetery. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Edith Roosa; one daughter, Mrs. John Bentley of Windham; and two grandsons, John E. and Raymond M. Bentley, also his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Roosa of West Shokan and one brother, Hubert Roosa of Kingston.

Mrs. Anna N. Schleffer, widow of Augustus Schleffer, Ellenville, died at Veterans' Memorial Hospital there, Tuesday, aged 77 years. Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Emma J. Smith of 10 1/2 Montgomery street, Middletown, and one sister, Mrs. Eliza C. Barnes of Middletown; also eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. The funeral will be held Friday at 2 p. m. from the Hummel Community Funeral Service, 102 Canal street, Ellenville. Burial will be in Pine Hill cemetery. The Rev. Donald Spencer of Ellenville will officiate.

The funeral of Francis W. Freer was held from the late home in Esopus this morning and thence to the Church of the Sacred Heart where a high Mass of requiem was offered by Father Blenlein. The choir of Mt. St. Alphonsus sang the responses to the Mass and at the conclusion sang "Jesus Lover of My Soul." Tuesday evening many friends and neighbors called at the house and recited the Rosary under the guidance of Father Blenlein. There were many beautiful floral offerings and a large number of Mass cards. The funeral cortege to St. Mary's cemetery, this city, where burial was made, was a large one. The final solution was pronounced at the grave by Father Blenlein. The bearers were Leonard Mott, Edward Dittus, John Mowell and Fred Hamel.

Stuyvesant Motors Display New Line Of LaSalle, Olds

Stuyvesant Motors on Clinton avenue, local dealers for two General Motors products, has on display models of the new 1939 LaSalle and Olds cars.

Olds this year has three series, the new "60", the "70" and the "80", three distinct price ranges starting off at $777. Olds this year has the new "quadri-coil" springing which through the four coil springs gives the utmost in easy and "Rhythmic Ride." This method of springing gives four way stabilization and also includes knee-action.

The second line which is sold by the Stuyvesant Motors is the new LaSalle for 1939, a larger, roomier car with many added refinements. Added this year is the "remote control" gear shift lever mounted on the steering wheel which clears the front compartment of the shift lever and provides a three passenger front seat. Models of the LaSalle as well as the Olds line are on display at the show rooms where the Messrs. Chambers invite the public to make an inspection of the new lines.

Newkirk, Hess Guests of Honor

Two members of the Men's Club of the Fair Street Church were given a "birthday surprise" at the regular meeting of the Club Tuesday evening.

William Newkirk, president of the club, and Ray Hess were the guests of honor who were surprised when the double celebration was climaxed with two birthday cakes with candles indicating the tender age of two years. Lack of sufficient candles to inform the members of the true age of the honorees did not dim the enjoyment of the evening.

A report was made at the business session of the recent cafeteria supper and also of the lecture which the club recently sponsored. An invitation to be guests of the Congregational Men's Club on November 15 was received and accepted and the club voted to make a substantial donation toward improvements which are being made to the church property. After the business session teams under the Captains of Harry Sweeney and Austin Hitchcock played dart ball to determine who should do "kitchen police" duty. Sweeney's team came out on the long end of a 11 to 6 score.

The club's dart ball team will meet the Wurts Street Baptist Church team next week at Fair Street church.

Week's Services at Albany Avenue Church

At the mid-week service of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church Thursday evening, Miss Ruth Knott is the leader, and the following topic will be discussed: "What Is Jesus' Cause in the World?"

The Woman's Missionary Society will meet in the church parlors Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock with the new president, Mrs. Harry Fulsair in charge. The program is as follows: Devotions, Mrs. E. M. Van Gelder. The Judsons—"Lest We Forget," presented by Mrs. Harry Klothe. Story, "How the Burmese Bible Was Saved," Mrs. Byron Chat-ham. The Judson Fellowship, Mrs. W. W. Brady, Jr. Baritone solo, Harold S. Brigham. Hostesses are Mrs. H. B. Rich and Mrs. J. W. Frank.

This coming Sunday the communion will be observed in connection with the morning service, and the sermon will be on the topic, "The Radiant Christian Life." At the evening service a special Armistice day message on the prospects of peace will be given under the topic, "Numbering the People."

The regular monthly meeting of the officers and teachers of the Bible school will be held on Monday evening, at 7:45 o'clock, at the home of the Misses Edna and Ethel Martin, 160 Elmendorf street. Superintendent Evan J. Davis will preside, and there will be important business to transact.

Kingston High Gridders Make Ready For Middies Saturday

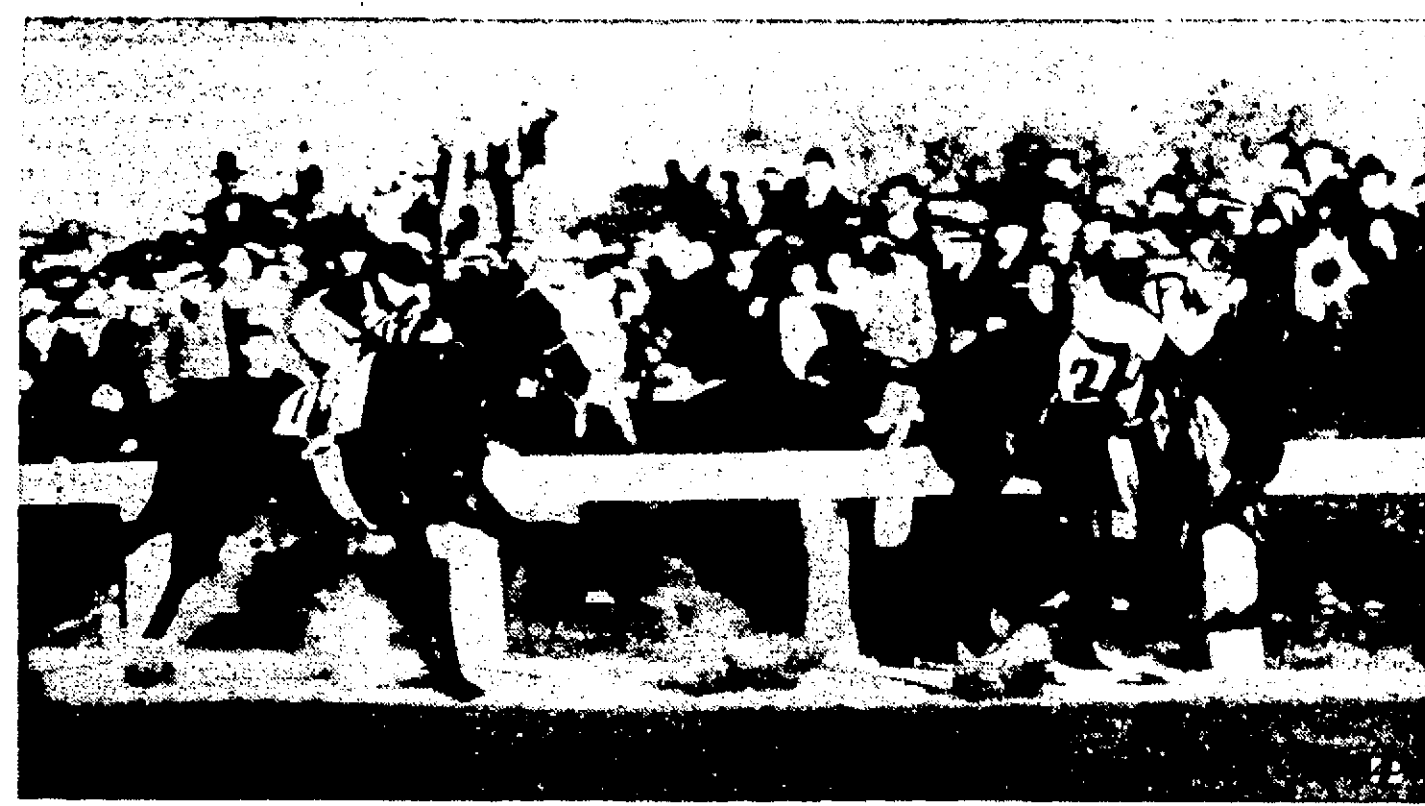

Following a week free from any real football competition, the Kingston High School team will resume action this Saturday when it travels to meet the graduation-riddled club of Middletown. Despite their setback by Port Jervis, the K-Highmen are ruled slight favorites.

With a bruised and battered club following their matches with Poughkeepsie and Port Jervis, the Maroon warriors gladly took an off week but from now on until Thanksgiving Day they will be put through extra long workouts.

Hopeful of some recognition in the DUSO running even though Port eked out a 14-12 triumph, the K-Highmen will shoot the works Saturday. Last week from Tuesday until Friday, Coach Kias put them through long passing and running drills which he expects will do wonders for his charges.

Down in Middletown the Hughesmen have been torn literally by a graduation tidal wave that took such stars as Ray Dodd, George Semple, Roger Vail, Joe Rosello, Ira Cummings, Johnny Brown and Ray Hughes. Only George Kenny, veteran left guard

SEABISCUIT TRIUMPHS OVER WAR ADMIRAL AT PIMLICO

There goes Seabiscuit (No. 2) into an early lead—first time past the grandstand—which he made stand up for a three-length victory over War Admiral at Pimlico. Seabiscuit took the mile and three-sixteenths match race in 1:56 3/5 to set a new track record. It was the second time in two years the Admiral had to eat dust.

Jimmy Foxx Is American League's Most Valuable Man

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—At the rodeo in Madison Square Garden the loud speaker suddenly bellowed a triumphant message to the thousands of people gathered there to see the cowboys and cowgirls riding hard on a gang of mustangs.

"Ladies and gentlemen, name the deep-toned voice, 'at this moment a man who has thrilled all of you countless times on the screen is in your midst. He came here, even as you and I, to see the marvels of this great festival of entertainment. Ladies and gentlemen, look in Box 7, DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS'."

Just then a dazzling spotlight played on box seven. It was empty. There was a stunned silence. Suddenly a graceful, athletic figure leaped down the runway, nimbly vaulted the box rail, and waved a cheery greeting to about 20,000 people who were there. The crowd roared, but through the tumult I thought I heard the ghost of a sigh—probably that of the announcer, who had been saved at the last moment. Had he waited two seconds longer to make his announcement, Doug would have been out of the Garden and hurrying up Eighth avenue.

IT WAS a quick thinking newspaper reporter who halted time and thereby preserved a public slapping for the exclusive enjoyment of his own photographer. This was the little incident in a nightclub the other evening when a lady asked a boxer in the jaw, "because he had a date with me and stood me up."

She hurried into the club around midnight and, recognizing the reporter, inquired, "Have you seen Jack? I'm going to punch him in the face."

The reporter seized her hand. "Will you hold it 20 minutes?" he pleaded. Whereupon he raced to a telephone, called his city editor, and in less time than it takes to write this the photographer came bounding into the nightclub.

"Now," said the reporter to the lady, "you go into your act. There he sits over there."

THE lady advanced with a menacing look in her eye. The reporter was at her heels. The photographer, lens focused on the unsuspecting prizefighter, stood waiting. With no delay the aggressive lady wound up and delivered a stinging right smack to the flabbergasted pugilist's cheek. Instantly there was bedlam. The boxer sat at a ringside table talking to another young lady. That's what he was doing when the party of the first part found him. The story, with pictures, made all the N. Y. papers.

Rates 10 Goals

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—As a reward for his brilliant play in leading Old Westbury to its second national open polo title, Michael G. Phipps has been given the rating of 10 goals in the new handicapped list of the United States Polo Association. He joins at the top of the list Tommy Hitchcock, Stewart Iglehart and Cecil Smith to give the United States its first quartet of 10 goal players since 1925.

Cross Country Race

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—Michigan State and 29 other colleges will be competing for a brand new trophy in the 30th Intercollegiate A. A. A. varsity cross country championships at Van Cortlandt Park, New York, November 14. The Spartans retired the old trophy last year when they won team honors for the fifth straight time. The three-mile freshman run has drawn entries from 19 colleges.

Seabiscuit Is Pimlico Victor

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 2 (AP)—Seabiscuit, the hard-hitting little equine warrior from the west, stands unchallenged today as the king of the American turf.

In as dramatic a battle ever decided over Pimlico's ancient turf, the five-year-old star of Charles S. Howard's stable yesterday settled his argument with Samuel D. Riddle's War Admiral in a manner that left no doubt as to which is the better horse.

Not only did the Biscuit whip the mighty Admiral by three lengths but he created a new track record for a mile and three-sixteenths and left 40,000 fans singing the praises of the one-time selling plater, which Howard purchased two years ago from the fashionable Wheatley stable for $8,000.

Under George Woolf's hand-ride the son of Hard Tack reeled off the distance in 1:56 3/5, one-fifth of a second under the time Biscuit himself ran the distance in establishing last fall what then was a new track standard.

Carrying with yesterday's triumph was a purse of $15,000 which sent the Biscuit soaring into a second place among the leading money winners of the world with earnings of $340,480. Ahead of him stands Sun Beau's world record of $376,744.

PUNTS AND PASSES

(By The Associated Press)

Hamilton, N. Y., Nov. 2 (AP)—Andy Kerr eased up on Colgate's Red Raiders today after putting them through the hardest workout of the week in preparation for Saturday's game at Syracuse.

Kerr put his charges through light drills and signal practice. No changes were made in the lineup.

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 2 (AP)—With nine members of his team either taking the "rest cure" or recovering from injuries, Coach Carl Snavely started Cornell slowly today in preparation for the "big game" of the year with Dartmouth a week from Saturday.

Snavely devoted most of the practice period to a check of an improving offensive and a review of the kicking game.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 2 (AP)—After working the Syracuse squad until long after dark, Coach Ossie Solum planned today an intensive drill stressing defense tactics which failed against Penn State Saturday.

Because of the many players on the injury list, numerous shifts were made in the lineup in an effort to find the most effective combinations for use in the Colgate game Saturday.

Kansas City, Kas.—Everett Marshall, 222, La Junta, Colo., defeated Joe Dusek, 220, New York, two straight falls.

Indianapolis—John Grandovich, 235, New York, beat Tom Marvin, 220, Oklahoma; two falls.

WAR ADMIRAL EATS SEABISCUIT DUST

Charles S. Howard's Seabiscuit, with George Woolf up, pounds around the first turn at Pimlico to grab the lead from War Admiral, ridden by Charley Kurlitsky. The Biscuit won the match race by three lengths, setting a new track record for a mile and three-sixteenths.

Solly Krieger Beats Al Hostak

Seattle, Nov. 2 (AP)—Solly Krieger from Brooklyn, was the new middleweight champion of the world today after beating Al Hostak so savagely he sent the Seattle Slav to a hospital, temporarily blinded, paralyzed and without the use of one arm.

Krieger fought a cagey, crouching battle. He chopped Hostak to pieces with left and right crosses before 9,000 surprised spectators. Al had been a heavy local favorite.

Hostak was a dejected and broken battler when he left the ring for the hospital. He was game to the end—too game for his own good—staying the full 15 rounds even when he had only his right left for both offense and defense. When it was over his right eye was swollen shut, his left almost closed, his face bloody and gashed, his left eye welled and paralyzed, and his hands badly injured.

Armstrong Hurt, Bout Postponed

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—The Henry Armstrong-Celestino Garcia middleweight scrap is off for a month and maybe much longer, all depending upon how Armstrong recovers from a hurt he got while shadow-boxing yesterday.

The little negro fell twice in what was to have been his final training session for the first defense of his 147-pound title tonight, and he is trusted up worse than a Thanksgiving turkey. He can walk, but that's about all.

Armstrong's injury is a joint loss in his back and has caused partial paralysis of his right leg. Carelessness caused it. Instead of warming up in a regular ring, Armstrong chose to dance around on a square of canvas laid out on the cement jai-alai fronton in the Hippodrome. He hadn't been at it about 10 seconds when he slipped and fell the first time. Resin was scattered around, but pretty soon down he went again.

Schryver's Movies Monday—Basketball Tickets Ready

By Joe Kelly

Kingston High School football team is laying off scrimmages to be in good physical trim for Middletown at the Athletic Field, Saturday afternoon. . . . The boys hope to ring up a win for Vince Stoll, their new captain. . . . That injury to Henry Armstrong is no fake, the boys from New York report. . . . But, as George Parnassus, Garcia's manager, yells "Why did he have to work out the day before a fight?" . . . George and Eddie Meade, Armstrong's manager, expected a big "pay day" this week, but now they'll have to wait. . . . But it wasn't so hard for Eddie. He made himself a nice place of change on Seabiscuit at 2 to 1.

Tonight there will be a meeting of the City Basketball League at 7:30 o'clock. . . . All interested are invited to attend. . . . Classification of players will be announced shortly. . . . Young George Black, classy Milwaukee middleweight, has hung up his gloves to start a seven-year medical course at Marquette. . . . Monk Armstrong, our local 155 pounder, has his eye set on higher accomplishments in the ring. . . . Arrangements are under way to have him box Red Van Alstyne next week. . . . Red is the middleweight champ of the Adirondack A. A. U. . . . Ray Flaherty, the Washington pro Reddick's coach, says Whizzer White could be the greatest back in the game if he gave up the Rhodes Scholarship and stayed in the play-for-pay business for three years or so.

Bill Stewart, having made the grade as a National League umpire and Stanley Cup hockey winner, takes a crack at broadcasting tonight. . . . Edgar Jones, a Scranton, Pa. boy and the most-talked-of halfback on the Pitt freshman squad, is the same lad who pitched seven innings of shutout ball for an industrial team against the Cardinals last summer. . . . From someone high up in the Cardinals' organization comes word that Ray Bladen definitely has the inside track to manager the gasless Gas-housers. . . . All you Colonial basketball fans: Reserved seats are on sale for the pro games at the auditorium. . . . They may be had from any of the big four who brought the game back to Kingston. . . . Attorney LeVan Haver, Matthew Herzog, Jack Feye and Attorney Joseph Forman. . . . Bet 'em early and avoid the rush. . . . With Barney Sedran's club flying the Colonial banner, things look bright for a big season. . . . William Schryver, the lumberman who likes to grind a movie camera for a hobby, shot some of those races on the creek during the summer. . . . Don Schryver, his son, who drove, will show the movies at Fischer's Yacht Basin next Monday night.

Basketball Reserved Seats Are Now Ready For Distribution

Big Sale of Seats For Boxing Show On Friday Night

Sale of reserved seats for the boxing show Friday night, featuring Dom Peretti, Amsterdam, and Bill Speary, Nanticoke, Pa., two national bantamweight champions, looks as though it will hit a new high mark, it was announced today.

Orders for the ringside chairs are flowing in rapidly, and indications are that there will be a full section on each side of the roped arena Friday night.

Peretti, Diamond Belt champ, and Speary, national Golden Gloves titlist, each hold a win. Dom having recorded his victory on a technical knockout verdict in Rochester about three weeks ago. "He'd never have beaten me," said Speary, "only I had the ill luck of suffering a cut eye and the referee stopped the fight." Speary says he'll prove his superiority Friday.

Supporting the Peretti-Speary go is a list of scraps that promise plenty of thrills to the customers who turn out at the auditorium. . . . Carmine Fatta, Newburgh scullion, who has been a consistent winner here, will toss leather with Davie Meyers of Philadelphia. Sergeant Charley Perry, light-heavyweight champ of the Adirondack A. A. U., is matched 4th Joe Bittel, Speary's stablemate, whom he floored three times but lost an unpopular decision in Rochester.

Other bantamweight champs, vs. Glen Edwards, Penn state title holder from Nanticoke. . . . Other fighters billed for Friday are Monk Armstrong, Kingston's improved middleweight, Boe Bliss, Ellenville knockout star of the heavyweight class, and Johnny Furin, gigantic 220-pound Middletown heavy, the opponent for Bliss.

Starting time of the fights is 9 o'clock.

Quits Football For His Religion

Amherst, N. H., Nov. 2 (AP)—Intercollegiate football, whose violence conflicts with his unorthodox religious convictions, appeared far behind Harrington Gates today as that great Dartmouth blocking back prepared for his humble tasks here on poultry train headquarters of the colony of the Legion of God.

Authorities, when satisfied that Gates, the brilliant student and football star, has left Dartmouth voluntarily and without compulsion, reluctantly withdrew and left him to practice the passive tenets of his little known cult.

Apparently remorseful over yielding to football's temptation last week, when he rejoined the squad, a. a. a. despite only three days' practice, started against Yale, Gates wrote out a one-line resignation to Dean Lloyd K. Neddinger and slipped out of Hanover Sunday.

He said he intended to remain with his co-religionists because he was "uncertain that he could remain in college and resist the temptation of football."

Authorities said the colony consisted of a weather-beaten one-story dwelling and two poultry barns and estimated the number of residents at about 15.

Miller Under Arrest

Glenford Miller, 26, of Kerhonkson, was arrested here on Monday afternoon on a warrant charging him with being a disorderly person, in neglecting to provide for the support of his family. The case will come up for a hearing later in police court.

Reserved seats for the Colonial basketball games at the municipal auditorium are on sale now, and may be obtained from any of the local committee working with Barney Sedran, manager, to put the pro game over this season.

"We would like to hear from all of the regular basketball reserved seat patrons by Saturday," said N. LeVan Haver, local secretary, the spokesman for the committee. With Attorney Haver on the committee are Matthew V. Herzog and Jack Feye, two local business men, and Joseph Forman, another attorney.

Last season these four came to the rescue of pro ball and took over the reins when Manager Frank Morgenweck slipped so badly that things looked dark for the game in Kingston. Through their efforts the New York Hippodrome franchise, which belonged to Kate Smith's Cottes, was transferred to the auditorium, after Morgenweck sold his to Troy.

Cattle Husta, former Kingston star, is manager of the Troy club, and hopes to cut a figure in the American League. When Cattle's club returns to Kingston for league games, the auditorium probably will be packed to overflowing.

Local sports hope the ex-casual star will do well as a manager, but are rather disappointed that he cut loose the lines that bound Phil Habin, leading scorer of the American League, letting him go over to the Jersey Reds.

Barney Sedran's boys and Husta's eagles undoubtedly will put on some red hot basketball wars at the auditorium boards, and it Sedran's predictions come true, the Colonials will be right out there in front when the club standings are calculated.

To date Barney has Frankel, Johnson, Berenson, Floetel and Helser, two youngsters who show plenty of promise.

Kinneys Slated For Practice

Jimmy Freiligh, manager of the Kinney basketball team, has announced the first practice for Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the 156th Field Artillery armory. The shoemen will meet the team of Headquarters Battery in the cage rehearsal.

Freiligh said that his lineup includes the names of Jack Purvis, Bob Purvis, Hal DeGroat, Mike Carpio, Zip Gelsler, Chet Bores, Freiligh will play himself.

K. of C. Confers Degrees on Class

The Major Degree of the Order of Knights of Columbus was conferred upon a large class of candidates in the K. of C. Home Sunday afternoon, October 29. The rite was in charge of State Deputy Joseph F. Lamb, of New York, who was ably assisted by Past State Deputy and present Supreme Director Daniel A. Tobin, also of New York. Approximately 60 men of this city were given the full title of Knighthood in Sunday's ceremonies.

The degree was preceded by a regional meeting called at the behest of the state deputy and which was attended by district deputies and officers from all sections of the state. The progress of the order was discussed and plans made for the coming months. State Deputy Lamb also presided at this meeting and told the large gathering of Knights the work accomplished by the various state committees. "Four years ago," remarked Mr. Lamb, "the Study Club idea came into existence. Last year 103 councils out of a total of 251 in the state had these Study or Discussion Clubs, and this year should see many more councils sponsoring this invaluable adjunct to Catholic activity."

"I expect at least 200 this year during which the program will be based upon the pertinent subjects before us today." The state deputy also told of the recent K. of C. pilgrimage to the Shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes, October 16, at which more than 6,500 Knights and friends were present. He then pronounced Supreme Director Daniel A. Tobin "not as a supreme director, but as president of your State Hospital Association." Mr. Tobin began his interesting talk by saying, "Despite the fact that as your state deputy has told you I am not here as a delegate, I must tell you about a significant development which has come to the attention of your Supreme Council. Recently Supreme Knight Carmody was requested by His Holiness, Pope Pius XI to come to Rome for an audience, and he has just returned to this country after that visit."

"The Pope has watched with ever-growing interest the accomplishments of the Knights of Columbus in this country and imparted to Supreme Knight Carmody a message of great import; namely that it has come to his attention that Communism will make its greatest effort during the next few years right here in the United States, which is regarded as the most fertile spot for the spread of Communism due to our division of race, speech and type thinking. The Knights of Columbus will be sorely needed to help repulse this effort."

"As the president of your Hospital Association let me assure you that you are the only jurisdiction in the order which can offer to its membership the hospital treatment for the arrest of tuberculosis. There is absolutely no comparison with your hospital arrangement at Gabriels, N. Y. Every member of this New York State Council is entitled to 15 months' continual treatment at the hospital should he contract tuberculosis, absolutely free of charge."

"Let me tell you that patients there are not objects of charity. It is your per capita which is levied on the dues you pay you are entitled to that treatment. You have at Gabriels the most modern and scientific hospital for the treatment of tuberculosis that can be found anywhere. The latest technique in the fight against tuberculosis are used there. You have the finest and most learned doctors and the Sisters of Mercy to care for you. We are constantly on the watch for the latest developments for the treatment of this disease. And we get results! Two-thirds of all the patients admitted to your hospital leave there absolutely cured. The other one-third is composed of most of chronic tuberculosis patients who can be helped but not cured because they are of the chronic type. The comfort of the patients is given our fullest consideration. Each one has his own room and radio which he can tune to his individual program. Men, hold this up to prospective candidates as New York State Council's guarantee against tuberculosis. Just as we have the finest insurance in the world, today, we too have the finest guarantee against this disease. By maintaining this hospital at Gabriels you are doing the finest humanitarian work of any fraternity in the United States today."

Following the degree the state officers and visitors were entertained at a dinner at one of the local restaurants.

Odd Fellows Greet Carrano

Friday evening the Odd Fellowship of Ulster-Greene district gathered at the Governor Clinton Hotel for a dinner and reception for Francis Carrano, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of New York. Approximately 200 persons, including delegations from the sister order, the Rebekahs, attended. Left to right across the above picture are: Frank C. Schofield of Newburgh, D. D. C. M. and Chief of Staff; Patriarchs Militant, Department of the State of New York, Fred E. Moch of Albany, Commander of Patriarchs Militant, Department of State of New York; Samuel Keeler of Albany, Department Adjutant; Jay H. Teeter of Albany, Department Elder; Francis L. Carrano of Brooklyn, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of New York, and Benjamin F. Saxon of Bronx, Acting Grand Marshal.

Many Attain Old Age

Philadelphia, Nov. 2 (AP)—Persons haunted by fear of dropping dead of heart disease are urged by Dr. Paul D. White, of Harvard University, not to believe "the jig is up." They may attain old age, he told the Interstate Postgraduate Medical Association, and die of something else. Furthermore, he added, such persons won't necessarily always suffer because nature often corrects heart trouble without treatment. The specialist said "heart cases" often were imaginary, and "freedom from fear" was one of the greatest aids to recovery.

Newburgh Council Makes Request

Authorizes Transmission
New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—Federal Judge John C. Knox today authorized transmission to Gov. Lehman of a transcript of the testimony of 11 witnesses before a federal grand jury which indicted Abe Joseph and five others on October 24, alleging the operation of two large stills in the business district of Newburgh, N. Y.

The grand jury appealed to the governor to conduct an investigation, saying that although 99 witnesses had appeared, the witnesses "without exception, knew nothing whatsoever of the operation of the stills or of the existence of vice and gambling conditions which were rampant on a large scale until raided by federal officers."

Transcribing of the testimony will begin at once, Assistant U. S. Attorney Raymond E. Wheatley said, and possibly will be in Lehman's hands by the middle of next week. One of the stills, a 10,000-gallon plant, allegedly was operated on Newburgh's main street about 600 yards from the city hall and police headquarters, and the other, a 47,500-gallon plant, was 200 yards from the city hall.

Sets New Record
Lancaster, Calif., Nov. 2 (AP)—The light monoplane "Little Bear" was down today with a new endurance record, although its projected 30-day non-stop flight was cut short at nine days by a gas tank leak. It landed after 218 hours, 23 minutes aloft. The old mark was 136 hours, 10 minutes.

Children Lose Chance
Evansville, Ind., Nov. 2 (AP)—School children gave up today's hope of acting as unofficial watchers at the polls on election day next Tuesday. School authorities rejected the proposal.
